Strike of Guards Makes Idle 50,000 Auto Workers

Eight Briggs Company Plants Are Closed by Walkout of 170 Men

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 9 (AP)—An estimated 50,000 Detroit auto workers continued idle for a second day and still more were threatened with idleness as a result of a walkout by 170 plant guards at the Briggs Manufacturing Co.

The eight Detroit plants of the Briggs company were closed Wednesday, throwing 25,000 workers off their jobs.

Chrysler Corp. sent home 19,000 and Packard 6,000 when a shortage of Briggs bodies halted assembly lines.

Continuation of the strike would completely shut down the latter two companies, managements said.

The guards, members of Local 114, United Plant Guard Workers of America (Ind.), struck over a demand for 15 minutes paid preparatory time. The company now allows five minutes.

The guards threw up small picket lines and the plants were closed when C.I.O. United Auto Workers' production employees refused to cross them.

A spokesman for Briggs said that while it was true some auto factories give their guards 15 minutes preparatory time, they require them to stand a roll call and inspection before reporting for work.

"We have no roll call and no inspections," he said.

In the capital at Lansing, meanwhile, the State Supreme Court invalidated Michigan's controversial Non-Resident Labor Law, which had been under fire from labor groups.

The court ruled the so-called "Little Taft-Hartley Act" unconstitutional on the grounds that it improperly required panels in labor disputes involving public and municipal utilities and hospitals.

The 5-3 decision held that such service of a non-judicial nature was improperly assigned to judges. The decision was handed down in a suit brought by the C.I.O. Transport Workers Union of Flint, Mich., in a controversy with the Flint Trolley Coach Co.

Attorneys at the state capital at first believed the opinion invalidated only the arbitration clause, leaving unaffected such portions of the 1947 law as prohibition of mass picketing, requirement of a majority strike vote in a bargaining unit, penal provisions for inciting to strike and similar provisions not involved in the arbitration procedure.

However, Deputy Attorney General Peter E. Brennan discovered that the so-called "severance clause"—normally attached to laws to protect them against wholesale invalidation if one or more clauses is attacked—had been eliminated from the 1945 state labor mediation law of which the Non-Resident Labor Law is a part.

Usually reliable sources indicated, however, that supporters of the act would appeal to the Supreme Court for further legal interpretation of some phases of the law in an effort to salvage some of its clauses.

Plant Is Burned

Metal Products Factory Is Turned Into Ruin at West Haven

West Haven, Conn., Sept. 9 (AP)—A general alarm fire of undetermined origin early today swept the block-long plant of the Metal Products Company here and flames said it was "completely destroyed."

Poor water pressure balked the early efforts of five local fire companies and one which was summoned from nearby New Haven when adjoining dwellings were threatened by spreading flames.

Fire Chief William Johnson said that it was not possible to immediately determine the cause of the blaze or the loss involved.

The company manufactures hardware.

McGrath Goes After Stassen and Cites 'Whispering' Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

Georgia Democrats dusted off the governor's chair today for Herman Talmadge, who occupied it for 67 hectic days last year.

The 35-year-old son of the late red-gullied Gov. Eugene Talmadge held a widening vote margin over M. E. Thompson, his 1947 successor, in yesterday's primary election.

Talmadge's claim that "victory is ours" went unchallenged by Thompson, now the acting governor. With the returns showing a three to one margin against him, Thompson said "apparently Herman Talmadge has won."

Young Talmadge had campaigned under his father's banner of "white supremacy" and there were scattered reports of efforts to hold down the Negro vote in the primary, which is equivalent to election in Georgia.

All three incumbents in contested congressional races—Reps. Eugene Cox, W. M. Wheeler and James Davis—apparently won a return ticket to Washington.

Georgia's seven other congressmen, along with Senator Richard B. Russell, were unopposed for re-election.

On the national campaign front, meanwhile, President Truman had a new chance today to retort to Republican charges he is a "complainant" failure.

In advance of Mr. Truman's morning news conference (9:30 a. m., S.T.), Senator J. Howard McGrath lashed out at Harold E. Stassen, who fired the opening G.O.P. campaign gun Tuesday in Detroit. The Democratic national chairman said of Stassen in a statement yesterday:

"This man, who is whispering campaign against the Republican candidate has not yet died away, professed to the people of the United States that he was sincerely and honestly behind the thus-far secret program of the Albany auditor."

"Dewey presumably will now study the effect of Governor Stassen's speech and determine whether it is safe and popular to be for the things that Governor Stassen said. Sometime Governor Dewey may express himself directly . . . but when?"

The G.O.P. National Committee may have answered that question yesterday. It announced that Dewey will open his speaking campaign September 20 in Des Moines, Iowa. The New York governor is expected to touch on agriculture and other domestic issues as well as foreign policy.

Dewey's campaign opener will come just two days after Mr. Truman is scheduled to make a farm policy address, also in Iowa.

Republican headquarters did not disclose any further details of Dewey's speaking plans, but indications were that he will continue on from Iowa to the west coast before returning to Albany.

Gov. Earl Warren, his running mate, is ticketed for an eastern tour during this warm-up phase. Between September 25 and October 6 he is scheduled to make major speeches in Buffalo, N. Y., Springfield, Mass., Hartford, Conn., Newark, N. J., New York City, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, and Charleston, W. Va.

The California governor will wind up the tour with a major address in Chicago October 6.

New White Line

A white center line was painted this morning at the intersection of Washington avenue and North Front street under the direction of Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren. The marking will be an attempt to correct the practice of many motorists of cutting too far to the left in making the left turn from Washington avenue into North Front street, Van Buren said.

Spy Probe Shifts to Atom Field

Committee Makes Claim It Has Uncovered Evidence Reds Got Compounds

Call 4 Witnesses

Army Officer Testifies Scientists Gave Out Secrets

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—The congressional spy investigation shifted today to the "field of atomic espionage."

Four witnesses were summoned before the House Un-American Activities Committee, now operating behind locked doors. Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) declined to give out the names ahead of time. But he told reporters:

"We are now getting into the field of atomic espionage."

The committee claims it has uncovered evidence that Russia obtained some wartime shipments of uranium compounds and 25 pounds of refined metal from this country. It says it also has had testimony from a former Army intelligence officer that some atomic scientists leaked information to Soviet representatives.

The House group is planning to resume public hearings next Wednesday when it may air some of the details. Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) says a major witness will be Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who headed the wartime atomic bomb project.

Committee members stressed that no one has questioned Groves' loyalty or reliability. But they want to bring out any information the retired army officer might have about possible sources of atomic leaks.

The hearing schedule may be upset by a postponement in the questioning of Steve Nelson, chairman of the Communist committee for western Pennsylvania. Nelson has been subpoenaed for an appearance this afternoon, but the committee agreed to hear him next Tuesday after he reported his wife was ill.

Phony, Says Professor

Also under subpoena to appear next Wednesday is Dr. Martin D. Kamen, who says he was fired from atomic bomb work at the University of California at Berkeley in 1944 for "indiscretion." Kamen, now a professor at Washington University, St. Louis, said his discharge resulted from "a phony complaint" in which some Russian officials asked him questions about the atomic project which he declined to answer.

A House labor subcommittee meanwhile subpoenaed six other witnesses for a separate hearing to find out whether Communists dominate the C.I.O. Fur Workers Union.

Chairman Max Schwabe (R-Mo.) told reporters the committee also intends to keep an eye out for "evidence" that management has played along with union Communists.

He said he thinks some management officials have gone along with Reds to get "peace at any price," while relying on the union to keep their competitors at a disadvantage.

To Talk Today

Today's witnesses, all representing New York firms, included: George Greenberg, executive director, William Pike, labor relations director, and Adolph Liebl, treasurer, of Associated Fur Manufacturers, Inc.; Paul Vorr, president of the Fur Dressers and Fur Dyers Association; Morris Goldner, president of the Independent Fur Manufacturers Association; and Mamie Rothleder, official of the Mamie Rothleder Company.

The labor subcommittee heard testimony yesterday from Sel Rosenberg that he thinks the Fur Workers Union leadership is more interested in promoting unrest than peaceful labor relations.

Not All Communists

Rosenberg, who is president of the Associated Fur Manufacturers, said he doesn't think the fur workers as a whole are "Communisticly inclined." But he said they have no choice but to accept the present union officials when elections come around.

Joseph J. Bernstein, representative of the fur industry, represented the union side.

Revision of Charter Of France Demanded

Paris, Sept. 9 (AP)—De Gaulle demanded today a revision of the French constitution as their price for support of a cabinet. Conservative Henri Queuille hopes to form.

The followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the wartime Free French leader and first provisional President after the Germans were chased out, are rightists. Paul Giacobbi, head of the de Gaulleists in the national assembly, said he insisted on elections next month to the Council of the Republic, the second French Chamber.

He and other de Gaulleists talked with Queuille last night. He gave no detail of the exact changes de Gaulleists want in the charter, but the General has said after the Chief Executive must have more power.

Questionnaires Mailed to 2,000 In Peace Draft

Men in 25-Year Group Get Papers First; Must Be Returned in 10-Day Period

Members of the city and county draft boards here today mailed the first of more than 2,000 questionnaires to men already registered for the second peacetime draft in the nation's history.

The eight-page questionnaires will be mailed to registrants in the order in which they registered, with the oldest group—those 25 years old—scheduled to receive theirs first. The questionnaires must be filled in and returned to draft board headquarters within 10 days after receipt.

Questions to be answered include those relative to marital status, dependents, previous military service, present occupation and others necessary in determining the registrant's classification.

Those who, by reason of religious training or belief, are conscientiously opposed to participation in war are instructed to sign a statement provided in the questionnaire, and will be sent a special form (SSS Form No. 150) by the draft board later.

No person who has not attained the age of 18 is eligible for a questionnaire, even though youths of 18 are required to register.

142 Sign Wednesday

An estimated 142 men registered with the city draft board Wednesday, bringing the total registered in Kingston to date to 1,070, Chief Clerk Walter E. Dutcher announced.

Dr. Joseph H. Rosenberg, chairman of the city board, today expressed his appreciation to the persons who have voluntarily served, without compensation, as registrars. He stated the board has received "marvelous support" from all organizations contacted in recent requests for volunteers.

Registrars who worked at the local board office Wednesday were Mrs. Adele Longanes, Mrs. Joseph DeVoe, Mrs. Anna Ballard, Mrs. Kathryn Liscom, Mrs. Doris Mehan, Mrs. Helen Millers, Mrs. Lena Roche, Miss Mildred Sgroi, Mrs. Anna O'Rourke, Mrs. Mildred Follwell and Mrs. George D. Logan.

Union Assigns Special Men To Deliver Milk Containers

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Emergency drivers have been assigned by a striking A.F.L. teamsters union to deliver fiber containers today to stave off a milk shortage in the metropolitan area.

With some retail stores already hit by the pinch in milk supplies, Local 807 of the A.F.L. Brotherhood of Teamsters last night ordered 32 drivers to return to work to haul the containers to milk distributors.

The fiber containers—in which about 65 per cent of the city's milk is packaged—have been piling up in factory warehouses since the strike began nine days ago and none has reached the milk distributors.

Other major developments in the work stoppage of some 15,000 truckers here and in adjacent New Jersey areas were:

1. Trucking employers filed unfair practices charges with the National Labor Relations Board against Local 807, accusing striking truckers of "interfering with, coercing and restraining" non-striking drivers.

2. Government mediators met last night with an area-wide union committee, representing 12 teamsters locals including Local 807 which has about 10,000 drivers on strike here. Employers met in a separate session. No progress toward a settlement was reported by either side.

Across the Hudson river in Newark, N. J., 16 independent truck operators reached a tentative agreement with Local 478, but the bulk of the local's 4,300 striking members remained deadlocked with the major employer group.

4. The Commerce and Industry Association of New York City said a survey of shipping companies shows that "millions of dollars worth of both exports and imports" have been diverted from the Port of New York to Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans as a result of the strike.

Local 807, New York's largest, has demanded a 25-cent hourly pay increase and other benefits. Under old contracts, which expired August 31, pay rates ranged from $53.90 for helpers to a top of $71.40 for trailer-truck drivers. An employer offer of a 15-cent hourly pay increase was rejected by the local membership.

U.S. Is Told To Mind Its Business

Russians Also Spurn French Demand for Release of 19 Police Taken Wednesday

Air Aid Goes On

Red Planes Have Not Yet Interfered With Transports

Berlin, Sept. 9 (AP)—Russian fighter planes stunted and dived high above the American sector of Berlin today, leaving vapor trails reminiscent of the war days. The Russians broke no regulations, but excited the German population in this jittery four-power city.

The maneuvers, duly announced in advance, were staged against a somber background of big power tension.

The Soviet commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, had just told the Americans "not to interfere in matters which don't concern them." This was the Russian answer to a protest by the American commandant, Col. Frank Hlowey, against an invasion of American offices in the city hall Monday in which 19 western sector police were carted off.

The Russians also have turned down a French demand for the release of another 10 western sector police who were kidnapped by Soviet sector police Wednesday morning while traveling under a Russian safe-conduct guarantee.

About 12 Russian Yak fighters roared over Berlin early in the day. Later there were two more groups: one of five planes and one of nine. They flew over the Zehlendorf district, an American residential sector, stunting, diving and leaving vapor trails but remaining at altitudes of from 25,000 to 30,000 feet. This, an American spokesman said, was not a violation of no-fly-zone flight regulations, which apply only to flights of 10,000 feet or less.

Allied officers said nothing unusual, thus far, had occurred in the air lift corridors to interfere with the massive allied program to supply the blockade city.

The U.S. spokesman, Lt. Col. B. E. Steadman of the U.S. military government's armed forces division, added:

"However, I can understand the Berliners' interest, especially over the vapor trails. They know those well from the days of wartime bombing."

Danish naval authorities in Copenhagen reported that at least 50 Soviet planes violated Danish territory today in flights off Bornholm Island in the Baltic. They said one group flew low over a Danish naval unit. The authorities asserted that the planes were in the territorial border. Russians occupied the island in the spring of 1945 and remained 10 months, withdrawing in 1946 after Danish protests.

Naval authorities expressed the opinion the Russian planes had violated Danish waters.

Marshall's Statement Confirmed

Chief Executive Denies Newsmen Any Other Comment on German Situation

Calls It Attempt Blockade Is Only Effort at Duress, Truman Says

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—President Truman said today the United States is standing up for its rights in Berlin while continuing efforts to settle differences with Russia.

Mr. Truman thus confirmed Secretary of State Marshall's announced policy of firm resistance to Communist disorders in Berlin. At his news conference, the President would not go further under questioning of reporters. One newsman had reminded him that the Berlin situation was "heavy on the hearts and minds" of Americans.

Mr. Truman said Marshall covered the situation as thoroughly as he could yesterday. He said settlement talks are continuing.

He said the U. S. is standing up for its rights in Berlin. Although negotiations still are going on, the President said the United States will not negotiate under duress.

Asked if the Russian blockade isn't duress, he described it rather as attempted duress.

Diplomatic authorities here have indicated growing concern over possible early collapse of the East-West talks for a Berlin agreement.

No Official Comments

Although no official word comment on the status of the four-power talks, there were increasing signs that the western powers look for the Kremlin to flash a red light on further parleys on the blockade dispute.

Diplomats here speculated that Moscow may use the Communist-inspired disorders in the beleaguered German capital as an excuse for such a stop order.

Secretary of State Marshall pointed up that possibility at his news conference yesterday.

Marshall charged that the Berlin city hall demonstrations and kidnapping of western sector policemen were aimed, at least in part, at disrupting the week-long parleys by the four military governments. He said specifically that Communist elements outside of Germany had a leading role in inciting the riotous acts.

Calls Instructions to Deputy

Lt. Col. H. P. Whiteford (with baton), British liaison officer, stands outside Berlin City Hall and shouts instructions to deputy inside. Col. Whiteford was prevented from entering by Soviet-controlled German police. With him is a group of British and U.S. newspaper correspondents. Backed by Russians, the Soviet-controlled police arrested 19 western sector German policemen and a German photographer employed by a U.S. agency as they left the besieged City Hall under promise of safe conduct to the French sector. ## Rahm Gets Up to 25 Years

Goldman, Ferrell Sentenced

Army Recruit Held On Murder Charge

O'Grady, Jail Escapee, Will Be Tried Monday, Bruhn Reports

George Rahm, Jr., 34, alias George Stellar, was sentenced to a total of 12 1/2 to 25 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison, when he faced County Judge John M. Cashion for imposition of sentence for his part in the July 11 Ulster county jail break.

Otto Goldman, alias Dan Mitchell, 31, was given a total of 6 1/2 to 13 years at hard labor in the same institution on his plea of guilty to assault and jail break.

Rahm was charged by information with being a second offender and admitted that he had been convicted in Onondaga county on January 28, 1938, for grand larceny, second degree, and on November 27, 1941, in New York county for attempted grand larceny, second degree.

He gave his birthplace as Union City, N. J., and his latest place of residence as Kingston. Under indictment 4268 he was sentenced to a term of from 5 to 10 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora and under count 5 of indictment 4275 he was given a 5 to 10 year term. Under count 7 of the indictment he was sentenced to 2 1/2 to 5 years in the prison, the sentences to run consecutively in the order imposed. The other charges against Rahm were dismissed.

Following sentence Judge Cashion remarked to Rahm, "This will keep you out of circulation for a while."

Otto Goldman of Hartford, Conn., twice before convicted in Connecticut of offenses which in New York state do not constitute felonies, was sentenced as a first offender. Under indictment 4274, count six, he was given a 2 1/2 to 5-year term in Clinton State Prison and under count seven a 2 1/2 to 5-year term at hard labor was also imposed, the sentence to run consecutively. Other charges against Goldman were dismissed.

Goldman said he was born in Brooklyn and had last resided in Hartford.

After sentencing the two jail breakers, Judge Cashion remarked to them that they were part of a "smart guy group" who had believed they were in a small town and could "outsmart" the local officials but had succeeded only in "outsmarting yourselves."

Grundenwald Pleads

Charles Grundenwald, 19, Port Jervis, changed a former innocent plea to one of guilty to assault, second degree. He was charged with having held up a woman and taking her purse at the town of Esopus. John McManus, counsel, asked for leniency on Grundenwald.

The current disturbances, plus other Soviet unity-hampering tactics, have deepened suspicion among diplomatic authorities here that the Kremlin has decided to wind up with a loud "no" the negotiations over uniform currency and the Berlin siege.

This, in effect, would serve as fresh notice that Russia is as determined as ever to force the United States, Britain and France out of the German capital.

Reports from Moscow last night indicated there will be no further talks there for the time being on the Berlin crisis if the Foreign Ministers Council meets Friday in London.

Sells Tells County Road Superintendents About Responsibilities

Bear Mountain, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—Charles H. Sells, state superintendent of public works, says it is the responsibility of county highway superintendents to keep state and county highways in good condition to meet the demands of increased traffic.

Sells, who is retiring from office October 1, made the statement yesterday in addressing the summer meeting of the New York State Association of County Highway Superintendents at Bear Mountain Inn.

He also suggested that each county hire a full-time year-round employee to study and supervise highway snow removal.

Forty-two superintendents are attending the three-day meet-

School Children To Get Benefit of Chest X-ray Survey

Tuberculin testing of school children in Kingston will start on September 20 and will be carried on as the initial step in the mass tuberculosis X-ray survey which is scheduled to start in the city October 4. Announcement to this effect followed a recent meeting of school authorities with officials of the Tuberculosis and Health Association and County Health Department.

Each school child in the elementary schools and the Myron J. Michael School who has parental consent will be eligible for the tuberculin test. Those children in the elementary schools who are positive reactors to the tuberculin test will be asked to go with their parents to have a chest X-ray when the mobile unit is in their ward. All positive tuberculin reactors in the Myron J. Michael School will be chest X-rayed at the high school when the mobile chest X-ray unit is there.

Students of the Kingston High School will be X-rayed during three days to be announced when the mobile unit will be located on the high school grounds and this group will not require prior tuberculin testing.

A positive reaction to the tuberculin test does not mean that the person has tuberculosis but rather that tuberculosis germs have been present in the individual's body, at one time making him sensitive to the tuberculin. Tuberculin contains no living or dead tuberculosis germs. The tuberculin test is a valuable diagnostic test which allows for early detection of possible tuberculosis by indicating the need for a chest X-ray to diagnose or rule out the presence or absence of active tuberculosis infection. Every parent should see that his child has the benefit of this test by signing the consent slip which each school child will bring home.

Those present at the meeting were Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of city schools; Dr. John R. Roberts, school physician; Mrs. Charles C. Fogg, Miss Kathleen Shurter, Miss Mabel E. Mericle, Mrs. James Young, school nurses; Dr. George W. Weber, superintendent, Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital; William Borty, health educator, Tuberculosis and Health Association; Dr. George James, commissioner of health; Dr. Milton Tully of the New York State Department of Health; Miss Adele Didrickson, supervising public health nurse and Miss Hilda Brown, public health educator.

Four Fighter Planes Missing Near Manila

Manila, Sept. 9 (AP)—Four P-47 fighter planes which took off from Clark Field Wednesday morning for routine training were unaccounted for today, the 13th Air Force announced.

At least sixteen planes were reported in the flight which encountered bad weather off the northwest coast of Luzon. All except four were accounted for, the announcement said.

The missing planes belong to the 18th Fighter Group. A search was ordered until all possibility of locating them is exhausted.

It was unofficially reported that five of the P-47s had landed in Formosa, but there was no immediate confirmation.

P-47s are single engine Republic Thunderbolts normally carrying only a pilot.

C.I.O. OFFICIAL DEFENDS SELF

James B. Carey (left), C.I.O. secretary-treasurer, defends his conduct from rostrum during convention of C.I.O. United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, in New York city. At right is Albert J. Fitzgerald, president of the union. Carey was denounced in a convention resolution for joining in "defaming the U.E." when he criticized alleged Communism in the union before a House Labor subcommittee recently. Fitzgerald supported the resolution.

Jackson Will Ask Protest Be Made Against Detention

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—A Canadian labor leader who was seized by immigration authorities as he arrived here to attend a C.I.O. union convention says he will ask his government to support him in a protest against his detention.

The excluded Canadian, Clarence S. Jackson, of Toronto, was put aboard a Canada-bound plane last night by two agents of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Jackson, who came to attend the international convention of the C.I.O. United Electrical Workers Union, told newsmen:

"I don't like the hospitality of the Immigration Service or its willful interference with the rights of organized unionists. In the future when we hold our meetings, we will have to hold them on the borderline, which is supposedly imaginary."

The Canadian, a vice-president of the Electrical Workers International Union, had been held at Ellis Island since his arrival at La Guardia Field Tuesday. He was one of several Canadian delegates to the convention who were refused entry to the United States as "excludable persons."

This category, an Immigration Service spokesman said, includes persons affiliated with the Communist Party.

Jackson yesterday dropped habeas corpus proceedings, which the union had instituted in an effort to win his freedom, after U. S. District Judge Simon H. Rifkind refused to release him pending further Immigration Service action in the case.

Judge Rifkind, noting that Jackson's chief complaint was that his detention prevented his attending the union's convention now in session here, said:

"His inability to attend, however, is a product of his own delay in selecting the date for his arrival in the United States. He is not free to arrive in the United States on the eve of a union convention and complain because the ordinary routine for the inspection and examination of aliens interferes with his attendance."

Jackson withdrew his immigration application after the court hearing.

The Canadian's lawyer said he had attended union meetings in the United States since 1937, and there was not "the shadow of a doubt ever cast upon his right to be here."

How World Depends on U. S. Supplies

This chart, based on data in Secretary of Agriculture Sawyer's quarterly report on exports under decontrol, shows how hungry the world's broad trade areas are for U. S. goods. Before the war, the U. S. supplied about 15 per cent of the value of goods imported by other nations. Total U. S. exports in 1947 hit an all-time high of about $15,200,000,000, and goods went out in the first half of 1948 at the rate of $13,000,000,000. Pre-war average was less than $3,000,000,000.

12 Firemen Hurt In San Diego Blaze

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 9 (AP)—Twelve firemen, including Chief George Courser, were injured last night in a fire which swept a four-story downtown building.

Eighteen persons, most of them elderly, were rescued from a hotel on the top floor of the structure, but Chief Courser said there was a possibility others might have been trapped in the flames.

Ten of the firemen were hospitalized. They were hurt when the front of the half-block-long structure blew out, presumably from heat built up in the basement of the Goodrich war surplus store, where the fire apparently started, hClef Courser said.

Leo Korniss, store official, estimated $100,000 worth of goods were in the surplus store which occupied most of the building. The blaze was brought under control early today.

MARSHALL PLAN NEEDS SUPPORT

It is perhaps natural that the white-hot interest in the Marshall Plan cooled quickly once Congress had approved the plan and voted for European recovery. That was a momentous step, to be sure, but only the first one. The real job lays ahead. And the inevitable litches that have developed in the course of it seem to have attracted little public attention over here.

One major difficulty is that the ERP countries cannot agree on how dollar credits should be apportioned among them for the first year. It has been suggested that Europe will have to become less divided before it can divide the dollars.

Some time ago FCA Director Hoffman turned over the responsibility of finding an agreement on this matter to the European Council for the Marshall Plan. Its members were to recommend allotments for all the participating countries. Their failure to submerge national interest and desires in the interest of general recovery may be understandable, but it is not encouraging.

Part of the blame for this deadlock, however, seems to rest with the United States. Our government has its own disagreement over dollar allotments for the bizonal area of Germany. And apparently no one has yet been given authority to speak the last word on the matter.

The State Department has suggested a sum for Germany. Now the Bizonia authorities want more. General Clay's economic adviser, Lawrence Wilkinson, has challenged the European council's right to cut the German allotment. And he has said that if it did so, Congress might be less generous with further Marshall Plan appropriations.

This threat reportedly offended the council and surprised and displeased the American ERP authorities.

This situation seems unhappily typical of much of our European policy, especially where Germany is concerned. Once more General Clay gives the impression of being the author rather than the agent of important American decisions. He probably could not give that impression unless there were some division and confusion present.

A report from Europe says that this problem of dollar division may have to be submitted to the highest authorities in Washington. It might be suggested that this is approaching the situation backward. The policy should have been set and coordinated by the highest authorities at first.

When a minor official can threaten representatives of the ERP countries with congressional reprisal—to the apparent surprise of other officials of his own government—if those representatives balk at General Clay's orders, he is doing nothing to enhance American prestige. His action raises the question of whether there may be some apathy toward the working of the Marshall Plan in top-level Washington—a matter considerably more important than the lack of public interest in the same subject.

BACK TO SCHOOL

The whirl of preparations for the renewal of school activities over and the children actually packed off for the first day of the new term. Mother breathes a sigh of weary relief and Father covertly checks the condition of his wallet and rejoices that the next summer vacation is nine months or so away.

As for the children, it is obvious to the watcher of the school-bound parade that their emotions cover the range from eager anticipation to hopeless day-dreams of the favorite fishing hole as it looked yesterday with the sunlight beating down on the open place beyond the shade of the overhanging trees. Despite the excitement of scientific advancement and the allure of modern educational methods, there seems still to be a wide variance in individual attitude toward the classroom and the teacher who presides over it.

Happy or sad, few of the youngsters know how fortunate they are to be plodding back to their desks in the world's best school system. That realization will come later, and

'These Days'
By George E. Sokolsky

SCHOOL'S OPEN!

Up here in the hills where I live during the summer, we have school problems. They are the same as big city school problems. First of all is the question of building. Two of our towns, Otis and Sandisfield, had decided to consolidate their little red school houses, which were old-fashioned and in one or two instances condemned as unfit, into central schools, one for each town. Some of the parents who had moved up here from big cities want the same facilities for their children that they had had as children. Some of these parents even attended expensive private schools, but, in true democratic spirit, they want the village school to provide the same advantages.

On the other hand, everybody, including the schoolteachers, objects to taxes being raised. So, an argument has been running along in these towns on four subjects:

1. The costs of new school buildings;
2. The teachers want a raise;
3. The increased cost of bus service;
4. State aid.

If it could be fixed so that the State or the Federal Government would take care of schooling, some of the parents and especially the teachers would be satisfied. But they want it

1. Without State or Federal interference with local control of schools;
2. Without increase of State or Federal income taxes or other taxes.

Well, neither town has a new school building for this year's school opening because while the Selectmen and the School Committees and the Taxpayers Associations have been arguing, the prices of everything went up and if the schools were built now, the towns would have to go into debt for architects, although farmers here build their own homes and barns, some of which have stood for a couple of centuries. Also, the state requires that certain wage rates be paid which are way and beyond anything related to reality on these hills. Also, taxes already collected have to be spent upon immediate needs such as road repair after a bad winter and a rainy spring.

In one town they are solving the problem by cutting out the general contractor and by using local labor. We'll see how that works, because nearly every man on the job will have a child or more of his own in school and therefore will have a personal interest in the success of the project. One of the major items of the cost of building—about one-third, it was estimated—is traveling from the contractor's home town to the school site. By eliminating this travel, the town can get its budget down.

Another problem is teachers. The other day a rumor went the rounds that one of the teachers was not returning. A special meeting of the School Committee was held and the parents were hysterical because when does one get a teacher nowadays? Teaching has become less popular than it was in my childhood for reasons which I shall describe as we go along with this discussion of the schools and the education of our children.

Teaching is a semi-profession which offers guaranteed tenure at medium to low wages in comparison with certain skilled trades. Tenure is a benefit which does one get in teacher nowadays? Teaching has become less popular than it was in my childhood for reasons which I shall describe as we go along with this discussion of the schools and the education of our children.

Teachers like the advantage of tenure when it is worth-while and the advantage of high wages when tenure has no special attraction. Perhaps that is human nature. Also, it pays not so far back, the teacher used to be with the clergyman, the most respected person in the community and that had its compensations. Today the teacher is just a load on the taxpayer, who seems constantly to complain.

And so school opens on a lot of arguments none of which really concern the children or education or the welfare of the next generation—which may, however, be hurt by them. I shall in the course of this month, discuss this problem in this column on several occasions.

That Body of Yours
By James W. Barton, M.D.

WASTES OR EXHAUST OF THE BODY.

In textbooks in physiology which tell of the workings of the body processes, as anatomy tells of its structure, the body usually is compared to an engine or boiler which takes in fuel (food) just as an engine takes in coal, wood or oil. Like the engine the body gets rid of its wastes, just as the engine gets rid of its ashes and smoke. However, the big difference between the body and the engine is that the fuel for an engine never becomes a part of the engine, whereas the food we eat actually becomes a part of our body.

We think of food as fuel, but we seldom think of the wastes from the body as the ashes from the engine or boiler. The ashes or wastes from the body are the urine from the kidneys, the perspiration from the skin, the used air from the lungs, and the feces from the lower bowel.

While many may think that most of the waste is the feces from the lower bowel, this only amounts to about 6 ounces in the 24 hours; whereas the waste from the kidneys is about 50 ounces, from the skin about 24 ounces, and from the lungs 40 ounces.

While the waste from the lower bowel is only 6 ounces, it is important that this waste be removed from the body about every 48 hours although some individuals have a bowel movement after every meal. The average is about once a day. This waste in the bowel causes a dragging on the nerves and gives a "tired" feeling.

Waste from the kidneys, the urine, is what is left after the miles of tubing in the kidneys (about as big as the fist) have cleared waste materials from the blood. This small tubing decides what is good or harmful to the body.

The skin not only regulates the heat of the body by bringing water to the surface (perspiration), but in the perspiration are wastes harmful to the body.

As to the lungs, most of us think of them as just taking in fresh air and throwing out impure air, but in the 40 ounces of moist air (carbonic acid and water) there is also waste or organic matter that can poison the blood if not removed.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington — General MacArthur is holding quiet conferences in Tokyo with a special emissary of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that may have far-reaching reverberations in far eastern affairs.

The emissary is General Chan Chun, former Chinese premier and a long-time Chiang intimate. Chan Chun stands high in Secretary of State Marshall's esteem. They worked together when Marshall was in China trying to establish a stable government.

While the MacArthur-Chan Chun conversations are cloaked in considerable secrecy, it can be authoritatively reported that three chief items are under discussion:

1. A visit by Chiang to Tokyo for a personal parley with MacArthur.
2. The creation of an anti-Communist front in the Far East.
3. Reopening of Chinese-Japanese trade.

Prospects of Chiang going to Japan are uncertain. His home situation is very precarious. The new economy is a desperate plight, and the nationalists' military position is little better. Due to nationalist incompetence, reactionism, graft and treachery, Communist strength and armed inroads are greater than ever before. With Chiang now far from a popular hero, he may find it difficult to return if he should leave China.

Brush-Off

Navy chiefs would be well advised to scrutinize the conduct toward reservists of certain regular officers of the Thirteenth District on the west coast. It smells to high heaven.

While the Navy command in Washington is doing a lot of huffing and puffing about its love of reservists, these west coast "hot shots" are treating reservists like unwanted stepchildren. A certain captain, a commander and a second class hospital corpsman are particularly offensive. This is the sort of thing they are doing:

A group of college educators, holding war-earned reserve commissions, reported for a two-week tour of duty. All were making a personal sacrifice to do this. The commander in charge of reservist training repaid them for their patriotism by loudly and pettishly informing them that the Navy "already had too damn many professors."

The corpsman, while giving the reservists a physical check, was even more disparaging. And the captain of the ship to which they were assigned acted as if they were plague-bearing pests. Although some of them earn several times his pay in their profession, being in uniform, they naturally couldn't say anything.

But now returned home, they are saying a lot—and it's doing the Navy no good.

Penologist

Boston's irrepressible Mayor Jim Curley is turning his recent prison experience to a novel purpose. He is lecturing penologists on how jails should be run.

Curley served time in a federal penitentiary on a war-time mail-fraud conviction. When the American Prison Association met in Boston, he readily accepted an invitation to address the penologists.

"I had the good fortune to be a guest of the government for some months without having to pay," Curley told them. "I learned many things. I learned, for example, that if a judge had a good breakfast and was on good terms with his wife when he came into court, a defendant usually got a light sentence. But if the judge did not eat breakfast and the defendant came into court ill tempered, it was too bad. The defendant would get soaked hard."

"Another thing I learned was that practically every college in the country, including Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Columbia, was represented in my jail. They even had one man from West Point and another from Annapolis. One day I went into the prison library and saw a kindly old man who asked me if I didn't remember him. It turned out I had addressed the graduating class when he got his degree at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology."

Big Question

The mysterious sudden death of Col. Gen. Andrei Zhdanov has given new impetus to a long-held big question in foreign chancelleries—what will happen in Russia when Joseph Stalin dies?

Now 68, he has been in poor health for several years. Zhdanov was reported to have been one of three potential successors to Stalin. Now that Zhdanov is out of the way, pan-faced Foreign Minister Molotov looms higher than ever as the most likely choice.

However, nothing is certain on what will happen in the inner recesses of the Kremlin. Molotov, too, may pine away!

Sales Tax

President Truman has it all figured out how he's going after the G.O.P. on the tax issue. He will charge that the Republican income-tax reduction was part of a secret scheme to foist a sales tax on the country. This will be his line of argument.

As a result of the G.O.P. bill, there is a strong possibility of a federal deficit next year. To balance the budget, the Republicans, according to the President, are planning to jam through a "soak-the-poor" sales tax.

Monkey Wrench

Behind-the-scenes, the State Department has just tossed a ripping monkey wrench into one of the President's favorite projects—the St. Lawrence waterway.

With enthusiastic Federal Power Commission support, New York and Ontario worked out an agreement on the construction of a power dam at International Rapids. This has long been a major stumbling block. The accord was sent to the State Department for what was assumed would be routine transmittal to the International Joint Commission, which has the last word. Instead, state has pigeonholed the agreement.

Irate proponents of the project are charging that secret coal and railroad pressure is behind the State Department's mysterious obdurance.

Flashes

A congressional committee is quietly scrutinizing the mammoth-sized historical division of the Army. Heavily loaded with high-paid "historians," the agency is grinding out more books about rear-echelon operation than about combat troops. Also, Hugh M. Cole, one of the "historians," gave a talk before Detroit reserve officers vigorously criticizing the late great General Patton.

George Killen, head of the government-owned American President Steamship Line, may be recalled by the Democratic National Committee as treasurer in an effort to unearthen some desperately needed campaign funds.—Rep. George Bender, R., Ohio, is investigating charges of neglect of Negro patients at the Tuskegee (Alabama) Veterans Administration Hospital.

Today in Washington
Berlin's Upset Condition Again Affects World Financial Markets, as Well as Officials

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 9.—Disturbances in Berlin have again given the jitters to the financial markets of the world and to officials in London, Washington and Paris.

There is no logic to justify the assumption that the Russians are negotiating with the western powers in Moscow some form of agreement at the same time that disorders are being provoked by the Soviets themselves in the municipality of Berlin. If it be inferred that the Soviet does not wish any agreement, then they hardly would stir up trouble in Berlin as a countervailing influence when they could as well reject the proposals made in Moscow at the recent conferences.

The possibility exists that the Russians are entangled in their own clumsy system of government and that the Communist Party, which is seeking certain objectives with reference to the policing of Berlin itself, is somehow working separately from the diplomatic functionaries in Moscow.

Such a lack of coordination appears again and again on the Soviet scene. Contradictions are explainable in no other way, for certainly the Russian rulers are not so naive as to believe the Soviet will make concessions in order to get the Berlin blockade lifted only to have the policing of Berlin itself become a matter of dispute with Communist-stimulated groups in the German capital.

When Secretary Marshall points out publicly that the riots in Berlin are part of an effort to set up a Communist-dominated government there, he evidently feels he can discuss such a development publicly without destroying the good feeling so necessary to the conclusion of agreements of a four-power basis in Moscow.

Strict secrecy has been the rule with respect to the Moscow negotiations, so the public generally does not know whether the main negotiations have been unavoidably interrupted, halted, or merely deferred while the four military powers deal with actualities in Berlin.

Certainly, so far as the outside world is concerned, it cannot discern in the conferences of the military governors in Berlin about the blockade any factor involving Communist controversies over who shall police the city. They are two separate and distinct matters.

It is quite possible that Stalin was getting ready to make an amicable settlement of the occupation of Berlin by Allied forces when the political forces acting through the Communist party decided on its own to take possession of the city government, either as a means of blocking such a settlement or as a method of exerting further pressure on the allies to get out of the city.

Whatever the answer be, it does not seem to have been thought through so far as the effect on the western governments is concerned. If it be true that time is working in favor of the Allies and against Moscow, especially as the Marshall Plan operations begin to strengthen western Europe and weaken the hold of Russia on her satellites, then the Politburo in Moscow will suffer by the Communist riots in Berlin. The overall effect is bound to be to bring a settlement and perhaps bring an increase in the distrust that will be felt no matter what agreements are reached.

For some strange reason, the Russian government at Moscow is either unwilling or unable to carry on a negotiation in good faith without some untoward incident happening that shakes the confidence of negotiators from the western powers. It hardly seems plausible that the Russian rulers wanted that to continue, for there are no evidences that they want war or that they think they can bluff the western Allies to retreat. More and more it would seem that what is going on in Berlin is a conflict on a local level which could bring major complications but which could also be settled overnight by a little bit of firm talk from the top Soviets to the Communists below.

The hint from Secretary Marshall, inquiring why the Russian military cannot preserve order in the city government, may prove more embarrassing to the Politburo than it seems at first glance.

AS PEGLER SEES IT
By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 8.—Among the many artful dodges by which she has wrung from the presidency of the United States one of the few great American fortunes directly attributable to politics, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt conducts a column of questions and answers.

In the latest batch of these there occurs the following:

Q—I read an article by Westbrook Pegler in which he stated that Mr. Roosevelt "signed his name to a property deed at his real-estate promotion in Warm Springs, forbidding forever the sale of his land to any Afro or any rental or occupancy by any such." If the statement is correct, how do you reconcile the inconsistencies of the Roosevelt family in relation to their public utterances and private actions?

A—I know nothing of the property deeds signed by my husband in Warm Springs. I do realize, however, that in signing a deed, he would have been obliged to conform to the laws of the state in which the deed was signed. If the state of Georgia has any such laws as you mention, he would have been obliged to sign in order to obtain the land. Since the property passed out of my husband's hands very soon after he acquired it, I have no idea to the four corners.

I have never heard much about the conditions under which the land was acquired or sold.

Mrs. Roosevelt is a professional politician in a presidential campaign for a candidate who is trying to vindicate her late husband of willful failures which now have committed the United States to conflict with the mighty totalitarian Russian Empire. That candidate has selected for his leading domestic issue the abolition of Negro segregation, which the late Roosevelt practiced in the most

A—Its origin is not definitely known, but palmistry existed in China 3000 years before Christ and most ancient Greek writings make mention of it.

Squirrel Catches Boy

Providence, R. I., Sept. 9 (AP)—A squirrel "caught" eleven-year-old Patrick Hinkle while he was fishing in a Roger Williams Park lake yesterday. The animal dropped from a tree and got such a hold on Patrick's ankle it had to be pulled off by a park attendant. The boy was treated by a physician. The rodent's body was sent to the state laboratory for examination for rabies.

Self-Support Is Cited

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Dr. Abba Hillel Silver says Israel now is self-supporting. The chairman of the World Zionist Organization made the statement at a news conference yesterday, shortly after his return from the Holy Land. He said a "cleansing separation" has been effected between the Zionist organization and Israel's government. The Zionist group no longer will contribute funds to the Jewish state, he said, since Israel now is paying its own way.

As Pegler Sees It

Deal that I here put it to analysis for the education of young citizens who have been invited to worship Roosevelt as a great moral leader, and for the conversion of stubborn isolators of older age.

We find Eleanor the Great abruptly helping herself to an assumption that some law of the state of Georgia compelled her husband to insert this clause.

There has been no mention of any such law. There is no evidence that any law forbade Roosevelt to sell to a negro. The recent Supreme Court decision on exclusion outlawed claims for damages for the violation of the Jim Crow clause, but even there the question was not one of negro exclusion by state law. The question was whether the seller could punish the buyer for selling to negroes in violation of the clause. The state itself did not take a position one way or the other.

Now, having raised the speculation about a law, we find Mrs. Roosevelt rushing on to an absolutely false assumption that the asker of the question not only has conceded the existence of the law but has made direct reference to it.

"If the state of Georgia has any such laws as you mention," she writes.

Who mentioned what laws? Read the question again.

There is no mention of any laws whatever.

If you find no mention of any laws, do you think Mrs. Roosevelt did? Or would you lean to the suspicion that she was trying to confuse the issue and relying on a hope that you would generously regard her as a sincere person who just happened to be a little inexact in her use of the English language? If you do give her the benefit of this generosity, you must discount the fact that she has been a paid journalist for 16 years, professing to deal in firm facts. Her pay from journalism has been such as to require clear expression and preclude inexact language. Otherwise, she must be suspected of cashing in on the election returns without professional ability to justify her income from this source.

Finally, Mrs. R. says "since the property passed out of my husband's hands very soon after he acquired it, as he sold it to the foundation, I have never heard much about the conditions under which the land was acquired or sold."

This is the cloud of smoke in which she tries to retire from an impossible position.

It is immaterial how soon or late after he bought it that the late Roosevelt sold the Warm Springs resort. Nobody has introduced any time element. But the suggestion that he sold it to the foundation conflicts with the presence of the name of a person in the deed under discussion. And finally, it makes no difference whether she had heard much or nothing about "the conditions under which the land was sold."

Mrs. Roosevelt selected this question as a fair one deserving an answer. Having accepted a question, the journalist must make an honest effort to get and give the facts, or say "I refuse to answer." The facts can be come at easily.

Mrs. Roosevelt's regard for fact is not always an example to the young.

At the time of her automobile wreck the newspaper reports said, without challenge or correction, that she formally stated that this was her first accident as a driver.

In her book, "This Is My Story," the same driver tells of two accidents in which she was the driver, one so dangerous that she suffered anxiety and lack of confidence for some time. (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Newman Hall at New Paltz to Be Parochial School

Three Catholic nuns, members of the Order of St. Benedict, have taken up residence at Newman Hall, New Paltz, to assist the Rev. George B. Fagan, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, New Paltz, in the work of caring for the religious training of the children of the parish.

The sisters will be engaged in the release-time religious training program established by the State of New York, under which, children whose parents request it are released from the public schools one hour a week for religious instruction.

Extensive alterations will be made in Newman Hall and in September 1949 the building will be opened as a parochial school with the Benedictine Sisters in charge. The convent and school will be under the patronage of St. Joseph's Church.

Besides the work at New Paltz, the Benedictine Sisters conduct three academies, two high schools, 10 grammar schools and also the hospital and nurses' training school in this city.

The Benedictine Sisters were founded in Italy around the year 528 A. D. The Sisters, who are at New Paltz, are officially known as members of the Congregation of St. Scholastica, which was erected by decree of the Holy See on February 25, 1922. The novitiate is located at St. Walburga's Convent, Elizabeth, N. J.

THRIFT KEYNOTES RICE RING

Tomato-rice ring is filled temptingly with tiny meat balls

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Here's a thrifty main dish that will feed six. The tomato rice, made with canned tomato sauce, has a wonderful flavor. Press it into a ring mold and fill with meat balls. Make your meat balls small. If you garnish the dish with pickles, fresh greens (radishes, carrot and celery curls) and use fall fruits for your centerpiece, you'll have your whole menu right on the table and won't have to do any hopping up and down from kitchen to table. A gravy boat filled with tomato sauce can be passed after serving.

Butter Ring (Serves 6)

One and one-half cups rice, 2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons melted margarine or drippings, 2 teaspoons onion salt, 1 bunch watercress, meat balls.

Add rice to 3 quarts rapidly boiling salted water, cook until tender (about 15 minutes). Drain; rinse with cold water. Add canned tomato sauce, melted fat, and onion salt. Blend thoroughly with a fork. Grease a 9-inch mold well and fill with the rice mixture. Place in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Unmold. Fill center with watercress and little meat balls (piping hot).

Meat Balls

One and one-half pounds ground beef (have meat well trimmed of fat before grinding), 1 onion grated or 1 carrot grated, 1 teaspoon salt, dash Tabasco sauce, ½ to 1 teaspoon chili powder (optional), 4 tablespoons butter, fortified margarine or drippings.

Mix ingredients, with the exception of the fat, well. Shape into small balls each about 1½ inches in diameter. Sauté in the fat in a large frying pan, shaking the pan from time to time to brown the meat balls on all sides. Cook to degree desired. To serve: fill the center of rice ring with watercress and pile the meat balls onto this green bed.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, soft-cooked eggs, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, or apple butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Split pea soup with frankfurter rings, warmed whole wheat French bread, hunk of American cheddar cheese, cup custard with fruit sauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato rice ring filled with meat balls, extra tomato sauce, pickles, radishes, carrot sticks, celery, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, pears, apples, grapes, coffee, milk.

Season Scrambled Eggs

Season scrambled eggs with a little Worcestershire sauce, as well as salt and freshly-ground pepper; then serve with creamed dried beef and mushrooms for Sunday Brunch. To make this a company meal start with a fresh fruit cocktail, add popovers, lots of good strong coffee and homemade peach or plum preserves.

Stuffed Celery

To prepare stuffed celery for a party, mash cream cheese with blue cheese, thin with a little cream, flavor with finely grated onion and tabasco sauce. Wash the celery, trim off the leaves, cut stalks in two-inch lengths and stuff with the cheese mixture. Sprinkle with a little paprika and arrange attractively on a serving plate.

NO MORE GUESSWORK

Nomessuring. No sifting. No uncertainty. Just add egg and milk to Flakorn® mix and bake. And you'll have 12 crisp and tender corn muffins. Sure to be delicious because ingredients are the same fine ones you use—precision-mixed for sure results.

Two more precision-mixes for you!

FLAKO PRODUCTS CORPORATION
Maker of superior baking mixes since 1922

Depends on Menu

Use eggs that are top-grade if you are cooking them in the shell or poaching them; but for pudding and cakes and cookies—where other flavors predominate—it is economical to use one of the lower and less expensive grades.

New Peach Shortcake

If peach shortcake is one of your family's favorite desserts make it as usual, using home or commercially-canned peaches, but try favoring the whipped cream for its topping with almond flavoring instead of vanilla.

Dance Revue to Feature Acts on Vaudeville Show

Robert and Norma Taynton, who starred for several seasons at Earl Carroll's famous Hollywood night club, will bring their "International Dance Revue" to the stage of the Broadway Theatre on Friday and Saturday, September 10 and 11, as the feature act on the five-act professional vaudeville show.

Their troupe consists of two men and five women and their appearance will mark the first time a dancing line will be presented at the Broadway since the revival of vaudeville last winter. They will present several numbers during the show, all on the Agnes DeMille style of dancing, including ballroom, adagio, modernistic and ballet.

One matinee and two evening shows will be presented daily, in addition to the Broadway's first-run screen attraction, the mystery drama "13 Lead Soldiers" starring Tom Conway and Maria Palmer.

Also featured will be Gloria Parker, famous orchestra leader who appeared with her "Men of Music" at New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and the St. Regis Hotel. She recently disbanded her band to do solo stage work.

A clever musician who has mastered several instruments, she will be billed as the "One Girl Band." Comedy will be supplied by Lander and Lloyd, the "Two Singing Madcaps" who satirize current popular songs. Master of ceremonies will be Sammy Moss, a clever comedian, who specializes in two routines—one a burlesque of a family spending Sunday at Coney Island, entitled "A Day of Fun at the Beach"; and the other an operatic takeoff, in which he presents grand opera, singing the soprano, tenor and bass parts all by himself.

Fifth act will be Geraldine and Joe, billed as "The Original Whirling Dervish." Joe spins on his head like a human top. The act recently completed an engagement at London's Palladium, and soon after the Kingston date will start a tour of Army hospitals for the U.S.O.

Health for All

A Healthy Start

This month thousands of little children all over the country are starting an entirely unfamiliar routine of daily life. They are entering school for the first time, faced with a number of adjustments to be made in this change in their day's schedule.

On the surface, most of them seem well-prepared for the adventure. They have new dresses and suits, pencil boxes and pads and even fruit and crackers for recess. But, unfortunately, many of them may not have the sound health so important to a good start in school.

Those children whose parents took them to a doctor for a thorough medical check-up before the opening of school and followed any suggestions the doctor might have made actually are the best prepared. Certainly every child should have a routine physical examination at least once a year but it is especially important as part of his preparation for school.

Many doctors believe that the time of life when the child is entering school is among the most neglected periods of his life. They point out that infants and small babies are as a rule well cared for with careful supervision of diet, protection from disease and accidents and the prescribed periodic visits to the baby doctor or clinic. The older child, on the other hand, "speaks up" when he is not feeling up to par.

Usually, it is the child of the pre-school and kindergarten age whose health is most apt to be neglected. He has advanced beyond the "baby stage," with its careful supervision, and yet it is not old enough to help take care of himself.

A child's physical well-being should be of special concern to his parents at this time. First of all, many defects of imperfections that might otherwise handicap him in later life, or even shorten his life, can be detected and taken care of at this early age. Secondly, the check-up might insure a happier school life for the child, cutting down on the time lost from school because of illness and enabling him to study and learn to full capacity with the minimum of trouble as far as his health is concerned.

For example, children should have certain protections against diseases before they enter school. Every child should be vaccinated before he enters school; most schools require it. Doctors advise, as a matter of fact, that measures be taken to protect every baby against diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox before the end of his first year.

The "pre-school" check-up often means that impaired hearing or vision, disordered tonsils and adenoids, decayed teeth, malnutrition and spinal curvature are detected at a time when they are most easily corrected.

Never wait until a child is seriously ill before you take him to a doctor. And don't send him off to his "big adventure" of school life with "three strikes" of imperfect health or corrective defects against him.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, 74 John street in Kingston.

Coffee Cream Pie

For a quickly made coffee cream pie use one cup of strong coffee and one cup of evaporated milk with a package of vanilla pudding. Mrs. Edward Bradley of 148 Broadway died suddenly this morning at the Kingston Hospital. She was born in Maple Hill, Town of Rosendale, and had been a resident of Kingston 14 years where she had a host of friends who will be shocked by her sudden death. Mrs. Bradley is survived by her husband. The funeral will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home and at St. Mary's Church at 9:30 a. m. where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in the family plot in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale.

The funeral of P.F.C. Frederick T. Zates was held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home and at St. Mary's Church at 10 a. m. where a solemn Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Martin J. Drury, P.R., V.F., with the Rev. John A. Flaherty, as deacon, and the Rev. Edward J. Farrelly, as sub-deacon. The responses to the Mass were by the children's choir under the direction of Theodore Riccobono, organist, following the Mass and the blessing of the body. All attending the requiem stood at attention as the choir sang the national anthem. During the time the body rested at the funeral home, scores of friends called to offer their sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family.

Tuesday evening Monsignor Drury and Father Farrelly called and said prayers for the dead. Later the same evening Father Flaherty visited the home and assisted by those present, recited the Rosary. There was a profusion of flowers and many Mass cards, silent tokens of the high esteem this veteran who gave his life in the service of his country, was held.

Burial was in the family plot in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale, where the final absolution and blessing were given by the Rev. John F. Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's Church. The burial followed the three volleys and the sounding of taps. Military honors were accorded to the Kingston Veterans Association and Rosendale-Tillon Post, 1219, American Legion, Bearers at the church and cemetery were Howard Shurtler, Morgan Ryan, William Jordan, James M. Ryan, George Nichols, Michael W. Walewski, Joseph Beschman and Fred Fiedler. The firing squad in charge of John Tyler, consisted of James R. Howard, Achilles Naccarato, James E. Howard and Peter LoBello. Taps were sounded by John Ruska. The flag, which draped the casket, was presented, in behalf of the government, by John Tyler of the Rosendale-Tillon Post. Mrs. William Jordan represented the V.F.W. Auxiliary at the services.

The German throng, estimated by City Council President Otto Suhr at from 150,000 to 250,000, jammed the Reichstag building and protested Communist attempts to seize power.

Charlton, Mass., Sept. 9.—Fire was sweeping over 70 acres of woodlands high on Todd mountain above the Mohawk Trail today. Forestry officials called upon the State Public Works Department to send men and equipment to augment the force of 50 volunteers. Fire Chief Frank Wells said there was little prospect of extinguishing the flames feeding on dry pine needles but he was hopeful of checking the fire until the rains come. ## Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—A selective recovery today pulled the stock market out of a general downward movement.

A burst of selling forced prices down abruptly by fractions to more than a point before some issues started marching back to register gains over the previous close. Extreme losses ran over 2 points.

The volume of trading ran considerably ahead of yesterday on the lower move but contracted markedly as prices inched upward from their lowest points.

Losers included U. S. Steel, Union Pacific, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Oliver Corp., American Telephone, American Can, Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Mission Corp., and Twentieth Century.

Gainers were Bethlehem, Schenley, North American Co., Anaconda, du Pont, American Woolen, Briggs Manufacturing, an increased dividend, St. Louis & San Francisco, Texas Co., and International Telephone.

In the curb market, stocks were off fractions to more than a point. Down were Bunker Hill, Creole Petroleum, North American Raytheon, B. and O. American Light & Traction, On the upside were Citicorp and Kaiser-Frazer.

Relatively light dealings occurred in the bond market where prices were marked down in anticipation of selling to raise funds to meet increased reserve requirements ordered by the Federal Reserve Board.

Larry Bishop Is New President of Olive Association

Annual Reunion Enjoyed by Group Formed When Reservoir Took in Their Homes

West Shokan, Sept. 9.—The annual reunion of the residents and former residents of the Town of Olive was held again this year on Labor Day as has been the custom for many years. The reunion this year brought together many of those who have moved to distant points but who once a year seek to renew friendships of friends and former neighbors.

Pratt Boice of Lake Katrine presided as chairman of the business session at which time officers for the ensuing year were elected. Following the invocation by David Weidner, a moment of silent prayer was held for those of the association who have died during the past year. During the past year Charles Hesley, president, died.

Elwyn C. Davis, secretary, gave his report and a history of the association was read by Elwyn C. Davis. This interesting history which sets forth the principles and objects of the association was written by Case J. Gwinn, C. J. Heiselman, former mayor of Kingston who now has a farm near High Point, gave an address. Thereafter a poem was read by Jesse Shurtler, Dr. Shem Everett, Supervisor Claude Bell of the town of Olive, the Rev. J. R. Vaughn, who also pronounced the benediction. Joseph S. Friedberg, owner of Pine Grove, spoke on the life of Charles Hesley.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are Larry Bishop, president; Mrs. Charles Hesley, vice-president; Elwyn C. Davis, secretary-treasurer.

Refreshments were served by the West Shokan Boy Scout Troop and music was furnished by Spanhake and his mountain band. C. J. Heiselman provided a car with a loud speaking system which permitted everyone in the grove to hear the entire program.

The history of the Olive reunion, written by Case Gwinn and read by Mr. Davis, was as follows:

"A generation ago the demands of a leering civilization called up the residents of one of the most beautiful sections of the Catskills to abandon the land of their fathers. Originally settled by white men 200 and more years ago, the land had seen its sons go forth to battle to preserve their country in four wars. The valley of the Esopus, rich in its historic traditions, beautiful to the eye and peoples by thrifty citizens, has become the 'reservoir section,' the source of an unending water supply for millions of people a hundred miles away.

"Beautiful as it was, it is still more beautiful today. The man-made lake, surrounded by the everlasting hills, has transformed the 'Gate of the Catskills' into an American Lucerne. And what of its people?

"As the residents started to leave the valley in 1908, a meeting was called in Boiceville by young Millard H. Davis, and it was resolved to gather each Labor Day to commemorate the days then vanishing. At first a Boiceville picnic, it was gradually extended to include all residents of the reservoir section, and yearly since then former residents of Boiceville, the Shokans, Broadheads, the Bridge, Olive Bridge, West Hurley and Brown's Station have gathered in the beautiful pine grove in Boiceville. At first the people had no officers. After a time Jacob Merrihew was elected president. Afterward the late Delancy N. Mathews held that office for many years. The late Joseph Hill also served as did others now gone. But always the Honorable Millard H. Davis has been 'chairman of the board,' and has presided at the meetings which are part of the 'picnic' on the afternoon of Labor Day, and while a generation has gone and the children of 1908 are passing on into middle age, their children are proud of their heritage and still gather at the 'picnic' to have lunch on the pine needles of the grove, to 'visit round,' renew old friendships, and to join in prayer and song at the meeting which closes the day.

"So on Labor Day the Davises, the Winchells, the Bishops, the Crispells, the Mathews, the Hills, the Winings, the Burghers, the Boices, the Winchells, the Longs, the Avorys, the Eckerts and many others whose families date back to pre-Revolutionary days, will gather once more and the Boiceville Reunion Association, with no constitution or by-laws, no dues to pay, no other officers than an honorary president, Charles Hesley, and a working secretary-treasurer, Elwyn C. Davis of West Shokan, with no membership requirements other than past and present residence in the 'reservoir section' will again praise God for his blessings and his mercies under the spreading pine trees on the little hill in Boiceville."

Truck Drivers Escape In Morning Accident

Drivers of two trucks which collided on Route 9W four miles north of the city this morning escaped uninjured, according to the state police at Lake Katrine.

The one truck, owned by the Kingston Oil Supply Corp., and driven by Clarence Stickles of Melville avenue overturned on its left side, lost about 100 gallons of oil on the road, and its front wheels were knocked off.

State Trooper P. F. Maisch, who investigated, said that the oil truck, headed north, swerved to its left into the south-bound lane to avoid striking a car which had stopped to pick up a pedestrian.

The vehicle went into the path of a south-bound truck loaded with 10 tons of gravel and operated by Charles Rzyany of Voorheesville. The back wheels of the gravel truck were shoved off their frame, the trooper said. The accident happened at about 9:30 a. m.

Jewish Appeal For Overseas Aid May Make Record

The greatest private fund-raising campaign ever staged by New York State Jewish communities is likely to emerge from the September 19 state conference of the United Jewish Appeal to be held at the Seneca Hotel in Rochester, it was indicated today by conference chairman Philip M. Liebschutz.

Mr. Liebschutz announced that the more than 300 delegates expected at the meeting were advancing proposals for the adoption of community quotas geared to the U.S.A.'s unprecedented $250,000,000 nationwide goal for refugees, overseas needs and Palestine.

Local Factories Not Up to Capacity C. of C. Reports

An aggressive program to promote and assist local industries will be a major part of the year's schedule of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, Albert Kurdt, secretary, announced today.

This and other items on the agenda will be discussed at the regular meeting of the board of directors Tuesday, September 14, at 8 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel, when there will be a preliminary consideration of a program of work for the year, the secretary said.

A recent general survey made by the Chamber of Commerce indicates that the output of most of the factories could be increased. That is the machinery is available if more orders are received. Increased orders would mean the employment of more men. Mr. Kurdt stated that competition among cities for new industries is "very acute." Some southwestern cities are actually offering free buildings and free factory sites.

Mr. Kurdt believes that more rapid progress can be made by helping established industries. This, indirectly, will attract new industries.

Reports will also be given on the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge housing, a preliminary report on a comprehensive business survey being made and plans launched for the annual Christmas lighting project.

Navy Builds Twin Bomber as Experiment

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Navy is building an experimental twin engine bomber with a range of 1,200 miles, it was learned today.

This is more than double the effective bombing range of today's carrier-based planes and approaches the Navy's goal of a 1,500-mile sky fleet.

The new bomber is scheduled to be test flown some time next year, with delivery set for 1950 if it proves satisfactory.

Naval aviation experts believe a 1,500-mile radius from a carrier is about the most useful range. They say they can reach every worthwhile target in the world with a plane that can carry a good bomb load that distance.

One expert pointed out that by lengthening the bombing range, the carrier's chances for attack as well as escape are vastly increased. For example, he said, a plane having range of 600 miles would have its carrier somewhere within an area of 10,000 square miles.

But if the plane has a radius of 1,200 miles an enemy would have to search more than 4,000,000 square miles of ocean to find the carrier, he said.

The eldest son of the late President Roosevelt declared yesterday that such an advertising campaign behind the iron curtain could help avoid World War III. The only way to get to the Russian people, the Democratic national committee chairman said, is to organize an air fleet which will drop propaganda leaflets to them. "We are the greatest advertising people on earth," Roosevelt declared. "And we can tell the Russian people our message by this method." He said he didn't believe the Russians would be foolish enough to shoot down any of our planes on such a mission.

Dewey Backers Urge His Use of Communist Spy Issue

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—Key Republican Congress members are urging Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to hammer relentlessly at the Communist spy issue during the presidential campaign.

The G.O.P. nominee, set to open his speaking tour September 20 in Des Moines, Iowa, already has indicated that he plans to do so. The latest bid for plenty of Dewey attention to the congressional inquiry termed a "red herring" by President Truman came from Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska, acting Republican leader of the Senate.

After a long discussion of campaign plans with the New York Governor yesterday, Wherry charged at a news conference that the Truman administration "is coddling Communists and fellow travelers in the government." He said the people of the Midwest are more interested in the investigation of Communist activities than they are in any other issue, including prices.

On that point, Wherry echoed the views of House Speaker Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.). Martin expressed the same opinion with respect to the country as a whole after a recent conference with Dewey.

So did Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.), the majority leader of the House.

Mr. Truman has said repeatedly that the congressional inquiry is a Republican effort to smoke seven lack of action on his anti-inflation program.

Wherry also accused the president of "rabble rousing" and of using a "technique of fear" in his election campaign. He said that was evident in Mr. Truman's Labor Day speeches in Michigan and Ohio.

"It is a system used by left wingers and fellow travelers and it is a direct contradiction of the American way," Wherry added.

He said, in reply to a question, that he does not regard Mr. Truman as a fellow traveler but that men around the President are.

Wherry said he had urged Dewey to speak in as many midwestern and far western states as possible.

Will Go To Coast.
The New York governor's itinerary through the states is later to take him from Iowa to the Pacific coast, then back through the central states on the first leg of his campaign. Dates and places are about ready for announcement.

Dewey is scheduled to leave Albany by train for Des Moines the evening of September 19. He will be away about two weeks. The swing into Iowa two days after a major farm speech by Mr. Truman at Dexter in the same state will take him into the midst of a hot scramble for a Senate seat.

The race there is a contest between former Democratic Senator Guy M. Gillette, the Republican incumbent, Senator George A. Wilson, Dewey's aides have said he will devote special attention to trying to maintain and increase the G.O.P. Senate majority. The division there now is 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats.

Dewey plans to confer in New York Saturday with Republican Gov. Robert F. Bradford of Massachusetts. After the conference he will go to his farm home at Pawling, N. Y., for the week-end. In a proclamation setting aside September 17 as Constitution Day, Dewey yesterday declared that "the principles underlying our constitution are under a great threat."

He said "there are even groups among us who would discard these principles and destroy the liberties they have preserved."

Therefore, Dewey said, there is today "more reason than ever to remember these truths, to cherish our constitution, to honor the memory of the men who wrote it."

The governor also proclaimed September 17 as Steuben Day in honor of the anniversary of the birth of Gen. Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben.

Police Donate Blood
Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 9 (AP)—Policemen here are donating blood to help save the life of an 8-year-old girl, because they helped send her daddy to prison. The little girl recently underwent a serious heart operation. Her mother is dead. "Some of us know her and we feel we owe the youngster something," Police Chief Albert F. Schelein explained. "Her mother is dead and we sent her father to prison for a long term." If donating blood will restore her health, the police department will see to it she gets all she needs.

This new Navy carrier plane, the XAH-1, is double powered by conventional engines and jets. ## O'Dwyer's Committee Meets With Principals

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—The special committee appointed by Mayor William O'Dwyer to conciliate the dispute over working conditions between the Triboro Coach Corporation and the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees, Local 1175, (A.F.L.) met for an hour at City Hall yesterday with representatives of both sides.

Both groups agreed to maintain the status quo pending a decision by the State Public Service Commission on the company's application for a fare increase. The committee tentatively scheduled a meeting with both sides for next Wednesday at City Hall.

The union threatened several days ago to strike against the company if demands for improved working conditions were not met. The committee consists of William Collins, A.F.L. regional director; Arthur J. White, regional director of the wage and hour division of the U. S. Department of Labor, and Howard Lichenstein, lawyer.

Russians Violate Area

Copenhagen, Denmark, Sept. 9 (AP)—Danish naval authorities said today at least 50 Russian planes violated Danish territory today in flights off Bornholm Island in the Baltic, and one group flew low over a Danish Navy unit. The Russian fighters crossed the territorial border, the naval authorities said. Russian forces occupied Bornholm Island in the spring of 1945 and remained about 10 months. The withdrawal came in the spring of 1946, after repeated Danish protests.

Would Oust Reds

Seattle, Sept. 9 (AP)—The American Bar Association stood ready today to oust any "Communist members or their supporters and to deny them membership in the future. The association assembly unanimously adopted a resolution to that effect yesterday. The resolution described Communism as "an international conspiracy teaching loyalty to Russia and treachery to this nation."

70,000 Persons Expected to Attend Wallace Address

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace will officially open his New York state campaign for the presidency tonight, and his manager predicts 70,000 persons will pay to get into Yankee Stadium to hear him.

The Progressive Party campaign manager, C. E. Baldwin, said yesterday the crowd will form the largest paid-attendance political rally in American history.

The Yankee Stadium rally will be preceded by a late afternoon automobile parade through the Bronx in which Wallace and his running mate, Sen. Glen H. Taylor, will take part.

Wallace, who was the target for eggs and other missiles in several communities on a recent southern tour, expressed regret yesterday that two Republican candidates were treated similarly by hecklers at a Kingsport, Tenn., political rally.

Wallace issued a statement deploring the hurling of eggs, fruit and vegetables Tuesday night at Roy Acuff, hillbilly singer and G.O.P. candidate for governor of Tennessee, and B. Carroll Reece, G.O.P. national committeeman and U. S. Senate candidate.

At tonight's Yankee Stadium rally, Wallace will report on his southern tour. Negro entertainers will perform. In addition to Wallace and Taylor, speakers will include Rep. Vito Marcantonio, American Labor Party congressman from New York city; Paul Robeson, Negro singer; and Albert J. Fitzgerald, co-chairman of the Progressive Party and president of the C.I.O. United Electrical Workers Union.

Wallace's manager announced he will "answer the people's questions" in weekly broadcasts over the National Broadcasting Company network.

The programs, starting next Monday night, will be from 9:30 to 9:45 p. m. (E.S.T.) each Monday night for seven weeks. The first program will be a report on his southern tour.

Something New Recorded In Fire Rescue Technique

Los Angeles, Sept. 9 (AP)—Here's something new in fire rescue technique.

Steelworker Blackie Mihalek was hanging from a second story ledge with flames licking around him yesterday. His buddy, Finis Bryant, had already jumped, breaking an ankle and suffering internal injuries.

Then crane operator J. D. Grindon, on the same remodeling project, went into action. He yanked levers and the big steel hook swung out toward Mihalek.

The worker grabbed the cable, got on the hook and was lowered to the ground, with no hurts worse than minor hand burns.

Apart from humans, the lion's most dangerous enemy, according to some big game hunters, is the porcupine.

Certificates Filed

Big Quake Recorded

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 9 (AP)—A big earthquake, between Fiji and Tonga, was recorded on the seismograph at Riverview College Observatory in Sydney today. The observatory at Wellington said it recorded an abnormally large earthquake in the vicinity of the Tonga group. A message from Auckland said there was a tidal wave at Raratonga, in the Cook Islands 800 miles east of Tonga, but that no damage was reported. An Australian Associated Press correspondent at Suva, Fiji, suggested the earthquake might have occurred at Niuafoou Island, about midway between Fiji and Samoa. The residents of Niuafoou Island have moved to other islands in the past year because of damage caused by a volcano.

Her Dream Comes True

Unable to go through normal court procedure because she is dying of cancer, Mrs. Aniolnetta Blatnick becomes an American citizen in her Chicago home, with members of her family looking on. Federal Judge Walter J. LeBuy administers the oath of naturalization.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Michael Anthony and children returned to New York Tuesday after having been here all summer. The Anthonys rode down with Bernard Casablanca who has been spending two weeks with his family in the village center.

Robert Haver, local Ford agent, is driving one of the 1949 blue sedans. Bob also has a 1924 Model T touring car which he bought for a relic but uses occasionally just for the fun of it.

38 Years Ago

Thursday, September 8, 1910: The Vly—School opened Tuesday with Florence Norton as teacher. . . . Atwood—Fire early Saturday morning destroyed the P. Di-belo home near the Kerbaugh Company's office. Through strenuous efforts of John Zimmerman and force of men the aqueduct contractor's office, commissary and stables were saved. The Di-belos are reported to have lost everything including $2,700 in cash and a gold watch. . . . West Hurley—School opened yesterday with May McAuliffe of this place as principal and Miss Hines of Kingston as primary teacher. . . . Leibhardt—Lillian Brown is visiting friends in New York. . . . Wittenberg—Surprise kitchen shower was given in honor of Elizabeth Lockwood, September 13, at home of Eva L. Shultis. . . . Montoma—Jace Q. Madden of Kingston, teacher of the Glenford school, spent Thursday at the O. F. DeGraff home.

Having a Birthday

Kendall Every, Sr., of Richmond Hill, L. I., is having a birthday on Thursday, September 9. Kendall, who is a room clerk at the Hotel Commodore in New York, was born in Kingston and attended school there. He is a son of Alton and Fanny (Scoville) Every of West Hurley. He is married to the former Mary Bell of Whiteport and they have two children, Kendall, Jr., and Robert. The Everys have a summer home on Van Steenburgh Hill near Shokan village.

Robert Coyle, who resided here as a boy, motored up from Howie-in-Hills, Fla., on his annual vacation trip to Shokan and is calling on old friends in the reservoir country.

Here and There

One of the four proprietors of the Grand Hotel at Highmount who bought the big summer resort last December has revealed plans to keep the hotel open all year following completion of the Belle-ayre ski trail. Highmount is the high spot on Route 28 where a fish wouldn't have to jump so very far to get from the Hudson river watershed into that of the Delaware river. . . . Hard maple logs seem to be in demand by turning mills as bowling pin stock. Does that mean that bowling is on the increase? Some mills buy maple on the stump, all the roadside and at the mill and will take either sound or hollow logs and also 18-inch lengths. Well, what with the maple syrup industry in the deldrums and the borer's raising Cain with the sugar maples, maybe bowling pins offer a way out for the farmer and woodlot owner.

Around the Town

Add pleasing sights along the Onticora Trail. The blue morning glories and red geraniums at Mrs. Charles Greene's farmhouse. . . . Wells are going down, down with each succeeding day of the drought. One resident has figured that he has enough water in his dug well to go 17 days if used sparingly. His water level drops two inches a day. . . . Brodhead Bill's Grandpappy says folks were healthier when he was young and the scientists hadn't discovered so many germs for a feller to worry about. . . . Farmers, seeing their cattle stand around without bothering to nibble much on the short, parched grass, figure they'll have to dip into the winter's fodder long before snow flies, come rain or no rain. (Who said the price of milk can't go any higher?).

Man Killed in Plunge
From 120-Foot Stack

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 9 (AP)—One man was killed and his brother-in-law injured seriously yesterday in a 120-foot plunge from a smokestack they would have completed in another day. Herbert Cedarblade, 32, of Wantagh, Long Island, N. Y., plunged to the ground outside the stack and died instantly. Francis Bradley, also of Wantagh, fell inside and survived.

The two were employees of the American Chimney Co., New York, and were building the stack at Nakoma Mills in nearby Dallas. They were putting the top brick when the scaffolding broke.

wald's record. Judge Cashin said the crime had been a "vicious" one and he sent Grunewald to the Elmira Reception Center, there to be classified and sent to a suitable institution. Other counts of the indictment were dismissed. Frank DuBois of Abel street, charged with grand larceny for the taking of a car, pleaded guilty to the second count of the indictment and was sentenced to 1 1/2 to 3 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison. Other counts were dismissed. Ray Mino appeared for DuBois.

Henry Sutton, Jr., of Highland, charged with arson, second degree, pleaded guilty to arson, third degree, for the alleged firing of a chicken coop in southern Ulster owned by his uncle. Bail was continued and he will be sentenced on Monday at 2 o'clock. A. J. Cook, Jr., appeared for Sutton.

Jurors were excused until Monday at 2 p. m. and court recessed until Monday at 10 a. m.

Four Appear in Court

Four of the five men who broke jail on Sunday, July 11, were back in court Wednesday afternoon to face County Judge John M. Cashin and answer to charges of assault and escape from jail. The fifth man, Morris Guralnick, alias Mike Gold, is still at large. George Rahm, Jr., who allegedly tricked the jail attendants into taking him from his cell for treatment to his eye while the other inmates made their escape through antiquated plumbing installations in the cells and waited to attack the jailers when they returned Rahm to jail, was the first one of the four men to enter a plea of guilty. Cuffed to the other three escapees, Rahm was the first man called before the court, his case being number one on the 61 case calendar.

Represented by Andrew J. Cook, Jr., Rahm pleaded guilty to one indictment charging him with grand larceny, first degree, alleged to have been committed at the conduct of his business in Kingston where he operated the Broadway Business Bureau, a business machine agency. He also entered a plea of guilty to two counts of the assault and escape indictment.

An indictment charging grand larceny, second degree, and the first, second, third, fourth and sixth counts of assault, and escape indictment were moved for dismissal by Mr. Cook at the time the plea of guilty to the other charges was entered. Judge Cashin reserved decision on the motion to dismiss until after sentence.

Rahm pleaded guilty to the grand larceny, first degree charge, and to the assault, second degree, charge, as well as to the charge of escape from jail.

After his statement had been taken Judge Cashin postponed imposition of sentence until today, although Rahm waived the 48-hour reprieve he might have taken advantage of before sentence is imposed.

The charges of grand larceny, first degree; assault, first degree, and assault, second degree and escape against Robert O'Grady were postponed until September 13, when trial of that indictment will be moved by District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn.

Ferrell Is Sentenced

June Ferrell, North Carolina migrant who was being held in jail on an assault, second degree charge, also changed a former innocent plea to one of guilty to assault, second degree, and escape from jail and also a second assault, second degree, charge. Ferrell, who was represented by Hugh Elwyn, was described as a "victim of circumstances" who had been led in the escape by men with stronger minds.

Ferrell, a town of Marlborough farm laborer, was in jail on an assault charge growing out of the alleged striking of another Marlborough man with a bottle while they were riding in a car. Ferrell had no prior convictions and is married.

Elwyn following the plea of guilty to two of the counts of the assault and escape indictment and to the original assault indictment, moved for dismissal of the other counts which was granted.

It was stated by counsel that when Ferrell was approached and asked if he would like to get out of jail he had replied, "Who wouldn't," and then entered into the plot to escape. Following the plea Ferrell waived the 48-hour stay and asked that sentence be imposed immediately.

Under the plea of guilty to the Marlborough assault Judge Cashin sentenced Ferrell to a term of from 1 1/2 to 3 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison. On the plea of guilty to the assault growing out of the escape a sentence of from 2 1/2 to 5 years was imposed. Under the escape plea a sentence of 2 1/2 to 5 years was imposed, all of the sentences to be served consecutively in the order in which they were imposed.

The fourth escapee, Otto Goldman, charged with assault, first degree; assault, second degree, and escape had his case moved over until today by his counsel Charles H. Gaffney who stated he had been away on vacation and had been unable to confer with his client.

George Longway, Marlborough

farm labor, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. William Kaercher appeared for the defendant. Longway was employed on a farm, had been doing extra work on a neighboring farm. He had some money due him from the extra work and went to the place to get his money but instead took $30 from a purse. Later when apprehended he returned $25 which he had left and the balance was also paid. He had been in jail 61 days and Judge Cashin imposed a sentence of 61 days, permitting Longway to go out immediately. The other count of the indictment was dismissed.

Conrad C. Tubbs, Newburgh, who allegedly stole property from a summer theatre and sold it, pleaded to a unlawful entry charge when the complainant requested no further prosecution. A burglary, third degree, charge was dismissed. A 60 day jail sentence was imposed, the amount of time already served. Charles Saccoman appeared for Tubbs, who was told to go back to Orange county and stay out of Ulster county.

James Strickland, charged with assault, second degree, pleaded guilty to assault, third degree. He too is a Marlborough laborer who allegedly attacked a companion with a knife while under the influence of intoxicants. Strickland served a year in jail in 1944. Elmer H. Nathan, appearing for Strickland, said there had been an element of self defense in the act and the complainant requested no further prosecution. Strickland was given a year in jail and it was suspended and he was placed on probation. He was told to keep away from drink.

Theodore Taylor, charged with rape, second degree, and assault pleaded to the assault charge and the first count was dismissed. Charles H. Gaffney appeared for Taylor and said the complainant was partly to blame for the charge. A sentence of from 1 1/2 to 3 years in Clinton State Prison was imposed and suspended and Taylor was placed on probation. Bail was exonerated.

On indictment charging grand larceny, second degree, involving the alleged taking of a car from Malden by Jane Lockwood of Edenville, was dismissed when the complainant state no further prosecution was desired.

An abandonment charge against Michael Caruso was dismissed. It was stated he and his wife were living together and had moved to New Jersey.

Cases Moved Over

Several other cases on the criminal calendar were moved over to September 13 at 2 o'clock.

The following were arraigned under sealed indictments: Alfred Daniel Scott, grand larceny, second degree, for the taking of a car. A plea of innocent was entered and the case went over to September 13.

John Klonowski, burglary, third, and unlawful entry. To be disposed of as a Youthful Offender. Plea of not guilty entered.

James H. Clearwater, grand larceny, first degree. Over to September 13 at 2 o'clock. The defendant appeared by Chris J. Flanagan.

Ernest Cesana, burglary, third degree; unlawful entry. Bail continued. Plea of innocent entered and cast over to September 13. Frank Campolungro for defendant William H. Collins, grand larceny, second degree. Plea of innocent entered. Bail continued. Case over to September 30 at 10 o'clock for defendant to get counsel.

Charles William Scully, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a second offender. Innocent plea entered and the case moved over to September 30. There were twenty-two sealed indictments, several of which still have not been opened or the defendants arraigned. When all arraignments have been made there will be a total of 70 criminal cases out of alleged receiving of goods stolen from the Gildersleeve produce firm between April 1 and July 17.

Ralph Mowle, grand larceny, second degree. Innocent plea entered. Bail continued. Case over to September 30 at 10 o'clock for defendant to get counsel.

Charles William Scully, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a second offender. Innocent plea entered and the case moved over to September 30.

There were twenty-two sealed indictments, several of which still have not been opened or the defendants arraigned. When all arraignments have been made there will be a total of 70 criminal cases on the calendar, one of the largest criminal calendars ever to be presented in Ulster county.

Judge Cashin stated that he would devote the entire term to criminal work if necessary to dispose of the cases.

Court recessed until 10 today.

Private Funeral Planned for Benes

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 9 (AP)—Private burial rites for former President Eduard Benes will be held at his country home tomorrow, official sources said today.

The body was taken back to Sezimovo Usti, where Benes died last Friday, after a closely guarded state funeral which displayed Communist apprehension over possible anti-government demonstrations.

The Czechoslovak statesman will be interred Friday in a tomb on a hillside of his little country estate overlooking the winding Luznice river, which rolls through the countryside of southern Bohemia.

Premier Anton Zapotocky mustered hundreds of troops, police and factory militia for yesterday's state funeral in Prague. Hundreds of thousands of mourners, who packed the line of march were cut off by a wall of human flesh and steel from any chance at what the ministry of interior said might be an attempt to "desecrate" the funeral.

Among the precautions was a change in funeral plans which saw the body carried to Pankevec Prison for official rites, instead of Hradecany Castle, the palace Benes occupied during his many years as president.

The change in route protected President Klement Gottwald from more than a brief exposure to the crowds that jammed Prague streets for the funeral. Gottwald succeeded Benes after the latter resigned rather than go along with the Communists.

Pankevec Prison was chosen because it was on the route back to Sezimovo Usti. Members of Benes' family, the cabinet, diplomatic corps, members of Parliament and Archbishop Josef Beran assembled there to hear a final discourse by the lord mayor of Prague, Vachek Vacek.

Although it has never been officially designated, the Road Runner, commonly called the Chaparral Bird, is generally regarded as the State Bird of New Mexico.

Bill Klem, umpire-in-chief of the National League, worked in more World Series than any other official. Klem umpired in 18 between 1908 and 1940.

New Move Strikes At Bank Loans As Inflation Curb

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—Borrowers may find it tougher to get money from the banks as the result of a new Federal Reserve Board action aimed at cutting down on inflationary lending.

At least F.R.B. officials hope so. Yesterday, in an effort to make lending funds scarcer, they ordered their member banks across the nation to put another $1,000,000,000 into reserve vaults—where borrowers can't get at it.

But the officials are not highly optimistic. They said the banks, for the most part, can raise those extra reserve funds by selling government bonds, leaving other lendable assets intact.

While there is no guarantee that the banks will tighten up on lending, officials said they probably will do so a little, at least for psychological reasons.

By inducing banks to lend less, the F.R.B. hoped to put a damper on buying and thus relieve some of the upward pressures on prices.

Its new action, using anti-inflationary power voted by the special session of Congress a month ago, raised the amount of money banks must have in reserve by an additional two per cent on checking accounts and 1½ per cent on savings deposits.

As a result, New York and Chicago banks must keep as non-lendable reserves 28 per cent of their checking—or demand—deposits and 1½ per cent of their "savings—or time—deposits, effective September 24.

2. Banks in other big cities must keep 22 per cent of their checking account deposits and 7½ per cent of their time deposits in reserve, effective September 24.

3. "Country" banks must maintain as reserves 16 per cent of their demand deposits and 7½ per cent of their savings accounts deposits, effective September 16.

Under the new law the Reserve Board could have made the terms stiffer on demand deposits—another four per cent for New York and Chicago banks and another two per cent on all other banks.

But it apparently wants to keep some ammunition in reserve while it waits to see what develops from this shot at inflation. Many finance experts have expressed fear that overdoing anti-inflationary measures would bring a deflationary swing that would be even worse.

Port Ewen Corps Completes Its 19th Season in Valley

Port Ewen Fire Department Life, Drum and Bugle Corps which is completing its 19th season has grown in popularity throughout the Hudson Valley this summer through numerous engagements for parades and civic functions.

The corps has appeared three times in Kingston, once in the Memorial Day parade and twice at events in the municipal stadium. Other appearances have been in Ellenville, Poughkeepsie, Peekskill, Coxsackie, Hudson, Saugerties, (twice); Catskill and Port Ewen. Saturday it will appear in Walden and Sunday in Highland. Contracts for other engagements later in the fall are pending.

Last year the corps finished a most successful season when it attended the National Legion convention in New York city. It was televised as the parade passed the reviewing stand.

The Port Ewen Corps is the only one in the valley featuring a flag thrower, Thomas Gorham, Jr. Donald Decker is drill sergeant, responsible for the training, regard to discipline, appearance and maneuvers. John Bach as drum major is the commanding officer, the center of attraction in parade.

It is the goal of the corps to have a playing membership of 80. This year 44 members are enrolled.

The organization is entirely self-supporting. This season 14 coats, 20 pants, one drum-major and one twirler uniform were purchased for new apparel. Cost of equipment up-keep is high, according to the leaders.

Organized in 1929
Organized in 1929 upon the suggestion of Adolph Munson, Sr., who is still a member of the corps, the original group consisted of eight flutes, eight snare drums, eight soprano bugles, two bass drums and two pair cymbals. These instruments are still owned by the fire company.

Today the group consists of 12 flutes, four Glockenspiels, eight snare drums, four tenor drums, two bass drums, two pair of cymbals, six first soprano bugles, four second soprano bugles and two baritone bugles.

Shortly after its organization the corps purchased the present red coats, blue breeches and blue hats, black belts and black puttees. A few years later this uniform was augmented with white trousers, hats, belts and shoes.

Edward Luedtke was engaged as drill master and the corps made rapid forward strides. A case of trophies in the fire house attests to the success of the corps under his guidance.

The peak of success was the winning of six prizes in one day's competition. During this time the corps was headed by Otto Lavan as drum major who was later succeeded by the present drum major, Mr. Bach.

The group was forced to disband during World War II due to the loss of many of its members to the armed forces. In November 1945 the corps was reorganized under the captaincy of Jack Short.

Purpose
The main purpose as stated in its manual is to provide the members with a wholesome means of relaxation and exercise through the medium of playing martial music. It is a non-sectarian, non-partisan organization through which the young men of the community may meet in a social manner because of a mutual interest in music.

It is also the purpose of the corps to entertain the public and provide a musical organization to stimulate interest and draw attention to the fire company and community. The corps provides the community with a musical unit for patriotic ceremonies, parades and public gatherings.

Weekly Practice
During the winter months the corps holds weekly practice on Monday nights at 7:30 p. m. Each section holds practice individually for one hour so as not to be distracted by the others. The entire unit then practices for one hour and lines up in regular marching formation whenever possible.

Members are Edward Doyle, John Reynolds, John Short, Thomas Costello, Richard Shabot, William Webster, Howard Mordock, Donald Decker, Oakland Maynard, Leslie Munson, Cloon Jump, Wilson Tinney, Arthur Baschunagel, Robert Budington, George Sleight, John Bach, Adolph Munson, Jr., John Coniglio, George Trinkle, George Kellerhouse, Harry Boice, Chester Fox, Howard Galbreth, George Leighton.

Jersey Legislators Adjourn

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 9 (AP)—The first session of the New Jersey Legislature to meet under the new state constitution passed into history today. Winding up a 24-day summer meeting, both Houses adjourned for the year last night after clearing up differences over a new court system to begin next Wednesday, and overhauling state government. Consigned to the agenda for next year was a controversial civil rights bill opposed by south Jersey and seashore representatives. It joined a veterans bonus, and legalized bingo on the scrap heap of the 172nd Legislature, which passed about 500 of the more than 1,000 bills it considered.

Good Taste Today

By Enily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

SHALL I ASK HIM IN?

A young girl from a metropolitan suburb would like to know: "Is it wrong for a girl to invite her date in or milk and cake after he brings her home? Mother and father are quite liberal about my going out with boys, but consider asking him up to the apartment afterwards definitely out of place, no matter what time of day or evening. Most of these boys travel some distance home on buses and subways and haven't much money and I think the least I might do is offer them something to eat instead of always having them suggest going to soda fountains."

It seems to me that it is most important for your parents to know these boys you go out with. Therefore, on occasion they should allow you to invite the boy up. However, when your parents are not in, it would be against the proprieties to bring him up to an empty apartment.

Dressing for Evening Wedding
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is taking part in a wedding and will wear a tuxedo. The bride's attendants will wear long dresses. I'm not taking part. What should I wear?

Answer: A very simple evening dress or long afternoon dress would be correct. You must wear a hat for the ceremony.

Stepfather as Bride Don't

Spill
Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is being married soon. She and my husband, her stepfather with whom she has lived for 10 years, have not spoke for three of these. Should his name be used on the invitation? (Her own father is deceased.)

Answer: If he will be present at the wedding with you, his name should be on the invitations with yours. Mr. and Mrs. John Doe, request the honor of your presence, at the marriage of her daughter, etc. Remember that publicizing family quarrels is in very bad taste.

Reserving Table

Dear Mrs. Post: When reserving a table ahead of time, is it customary to give the headwaiter a tip? And when?

Answer: Yes, if you are unknown to him, you give him the tip when you enter the table. If you know him well, you give him the tip at the end of dinner.

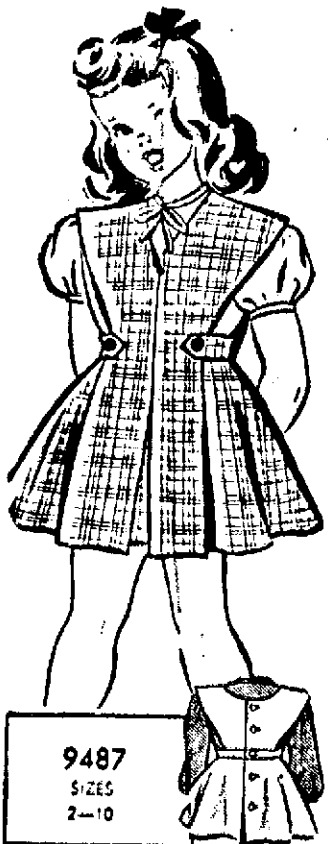

Mrs. Post's new leaflet, E-36, "The New Baby" describes the god-parents' obligation and the christening of the baby. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, to The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. ## Bridges' Offer Sets Negotiation Wage

San Francisco, Sept. 9 (AP)—Harry Bridges, sidestepping a showdown with the Army, has offered conditionally to handle military cargoes in struck Pacific ports.

The C.I.O. longshore leader, speaking for striking unions which have tied up all shipping on the west coast, told army officials yesterday that his men would load military cargo if paid the wages asked of employers during recent negotiations.

He said that the C.I.O. seafaring unions involved in the strike would move on ships carrying military cargo if paid the scale current on the east coast.

As an alternative, he said the longshoremen and the seafarers would load for present pay with

The provision that retroactive adjustments be made at the end of the strike.

Bridges outlined his proposal to newsmen before he met with army officials.

The longshore chief had no comment after the meeting, and Major General James A. Lester, commander of the San Francisco port of embarkation, merely told reporters.

"This was an exploratory meeting on means of moving army cargo. It was held at the request of various unions involved."

Waterfront employers had nothing to say on this latest phase of the week-old strike which has tied 28,000 men along the Pacific coast waterfronts and has cost shippers an estimated $4,000,000 a day.

Author of Book About Shyness Is Visitor in City

"How to Conquer Shyness" is the title of a book that is scheduled for publication in October, written by a woman who treats the subject from personal experience and observation.

Pauline Woodruff Titus told a Freeman reporter her book would be off the press October 7, when she visited the editorial room today with publicity sheets announcing its release to bookstores by Funk & Wagnalls.

Miss Titus said she was very happy that the famous publishing house had decided to handle her book.

The charming author treated Kingston very kindly in her conversation. To her it is a grand, homey city with courteous folk, very considerate of the comfort of visitors.

Miss Titus said she had been a guest at the Governor Clinton Hotel on various occasions during the past two and a half years while she was working on her book.

"Kingston reminds me of my native Auburn," she said, "and when I visit here I really feel at home."

The background for her book, "How to Conquer Shyness," was obtained from contact with folk in various walks of life while serving as a social worker, hotel and cruise hostess and writer. She said she chose these fields of endeavor to permit interviews with a cross section of the world's people.

In the book are the answers to more than 300 questions regarding shyness, Miss Titus said, asked by Americans and residents of foreign countries she visited during her years of travel.

Her advice to overcome shyness is: Take an active part in affairs; make it a practice to give, not get; talk about subjects of interest to those with whom you associate, rather than burden them with topics of your choice.

Shyness on the part of children is due to parents' thoughtlessness, according to Miss Titus. "They don't realize that their little ones are starving for commendation," she pointed out, stressing that praise helps and encourages a youngster, eliminating shyness.

The author has given advice about shyness in persons from four to 85 years of age, most of them male.

Miss Titus said that everybody has some shy traits, and cited the case of an R.A.F. major who asked what he should do to overcome blushing every time he faced a group of men to give a command.

This instance and many like it are covered in the new book, the author explained, pointing out that all of them are treated in a fashion popular with those who like their information to the point and free of the burdensome technical terms sometimes used in psychiatric discussions.

Miss Titus said that she has conducted a home study course for years in how to overcome shyness and revealed that its success was one reason for writing the book.

Nations Review Atom News for Publication

Los Alamos, N. M., Sept. 9 (AP)—Regulations on what atomic information may be published and what remains secret are being reviewed by the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

This was disclosed today in an announcement that the associate director of the Los Alamos atomic laboratory, Dr. J. I. Manley, is in England for that purpose.

Manley and other U.S. atomic officials are conferring with British and Canadian spokesmen on what is known as their uniform declassification guide. In force since last fall, the guide states what research developments may be reported and what must remain classified for security reasons.

U.S. Embassy Plans To Evacuate Nationals

New Delhi, Sept. 9 (AP)—The United States Embassy announced today that aerial evacuation of about 40 American and 300 British nationals from Hyderabad will begin in a few days.

The announcement said the step was being taken "in view of the latest developments regarding Hyderabad." This could be a hint that trouble is coming in the dispute between India and the huge independent south central state.

The Moslem nizam of Hyderabad rejected as "out of the question" earlier this week a suggestion by the dominion of India that Indian troops be garrisoned in his state, which is predominantly Hindu. The nizam has resisted previous demands that his state become a part of the dominion and has appealed to the United Nations for help.

India contends Indian troops should be in Hyderabad to protect life and property. The nizam says his troops can do it. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India sent a "last demand" Tuesday for reentry of the Indian troops and disbanding of the Razakars, a volunteer Moslem armed group. Hyderabad's deputy premier said yesterday the demand had not been received.

SHALL I ASK HIM IN?

A young girl from a metropolitan suburb would like to know: "Is it wrong for a girl to invite her date in or milk and cake after he brings her home? Mother and father are quite liberal about my going out with boys, but consider asking them up to the apartment afterwards definitely out of place, no matter what time of day or evening. Most of these boys travel some distance home on buses and subways and haven't much money and I think the least I might do is offer them something to eat instead of always having them suggest going to soda fountains."

It seems to be that it is most important for your parents to know these boys you go out with. Therefore, on occasion they should allow you to invite the boy up. However, when your parents are not in, it would be against the propriety to bring him up to an empty apartment.

Dressing for Wedding
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is taking part in a wedding and will wear a tuxedo. The bride's attendants will wear long dresses. I'm not taking part. What should I wear?

Answer: A very simple evening dress or long afternoon dress would be correct. You must wear a hat for the ceremony.

Stepfather an Uncle Don't Split

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is being married soon. She and her husband, her stepfather with whom she has lived for 10 years, have not spoke for three of these. Should his name be used on the invitation? Her own father is deceased.

Answer: If he will be present at the wedding with you, his name should be on the invitations with yours. Mr. and Mrs. John Doe request the honor of your presence, at the marriage of her daughter, etc. Remember that publicizing family quarrels is in very bad taste.

Reserving Table

Dear Mrs. Post: When reserving a table ahead of time, is it customary to tip the headwaiter a tip? And when?

Answer: Yes. If you are unknown to him, give him the tip when you clear the table. If you know him well, you give him the tip at the end of dinner.

Mrs. Post's new leaflet, E-36, "The New Baby" describes the god-parents' obligation and the christening of the baby. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped, addressed envelope to her, to The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Bridges' Offer Sets Negotiation Wage

San Francisco, Sept. 9 (AP)—Harry Bridges, sidestepping a showdown with the Army, has offered conditionally to handle military cargoes in struck Pacific ports.

The U.I.O. longshore leader, speaking for striking unions which have tied up all shipping on the west coast, told army officers yesterday that his men would load military cargo if paid the wages asked of employers during recent negotiations.

He said that the U.I.O. seafaring unions involved in the strike would leave on ships carrying military cargo if paid the scale current on the east coast.

As an alternative, he said the longshoremen and the seafarers would load for present pay with the provision that retroactive adjustments be made at the end of the strike.

Bridges outlined his proposal to newsmen before he met with army officers.

The longshore chief had no comment after the meeting, and Major General James A. Lester, commander of the San Francisco port of embarkation, merely told reporters:

"This was an exploratory meeting on means of moving army cargo. It was held at the request of various unions involved."

Waterfront employers had nothing to say on this latest phase of the week-old strike which has idled 28,000 men along the Pacific coast waterfronts and has cost shippers an estimated $4,000,000 a day.

Author of Book About Shyness Is Visitor in City

"How to Conquer Shyness" is the title of a book that is scheduled for publication in October, written by a woman who treats the subject from personal experience and observation.

Pauline Woodruff Titus told a Freeman reporter her book would be off the press October 7, when she visited the editorial room today with publicity sheets announcing its release to bookstores by Funk & Wagnalls.

Miss Titus said she was "very happy that the famous publishing house had decided to handle her book."

The charming author treated Kingston very kindly in her conversation. To her it is a grand, homey city with courteous folk, very considerate of the comfort of visitors.

Miss Titus said she had been a guest at the Governor Clinton Hotel on various occasions during the past two and a half years while she was working on her book.

"Kingston reminds me of my native Auburn," she said, "and when I visit here I really feel at home."

The background for her book, "How to Conquer Shyness," was obtained from contact with folk in various walks of life while serving as a social worker, hotel and cruise hostess and writer. She said she chose these fields of endeavor to permit interviews with a cross section of the world's people.

In the book are the answers to more than 300 questions regarding shyness. Miss Titus said, asked by Americans and residents of foreign countries she visited during her years of travel.

Her advice to overcome shyness is: Take an active part in affairs; make it a practice to give, not get; talk about subjects of interest to those with whom you associate, rather than burden them with topics of your choice.

Shyness on the part of children is due to parents' thoughtlessness, according to Miss Titus. "They don't realize that their little ones are starving for commendation," she pointed out, stressing that praise helps and encourages a youngster, eliminating shyness.

The author has given advice about shyness in persons from four to 85 years of age, most of them males.

Miss Titus said that everybody has some shy traits, and cited the case of an R.A.F. major who asked what he should do to overcome blushing every time he faced a group of men to give a command.

This instance and many like it are covered in the new book, the author explained, pointing out that all of them are treated in a fashion popular with those who like their information to the point and free of the burdensome technical terms sometimes used in psychiatric discussions.

Miss Titus said that she has conducted a home study course for years in how to overcome shyness and revealed that its success was one reason for writing the book.

Nations Review Atom News for Publication

Los Alamos, N. M., Sept. 9 (AP)—Regulations on what atomic information may be published and what remains secret are being reviewed by the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

This was disclosed today in an announcement that the associate director of the Los Alamos atomic laboratory, Dr. J. H. Manley, is in England for that purpose.

Manley and other U.S. atomic officials are conferring with British and Canadian spokesmen on what is known as their uniform declassification guide. In force since last fall, the guide states what research developments may be reported and what must remain classified for security reasons.

U.S. Embassy Plans To Evacuate Nationals

New Delhi, Sept. 9 (AP)—The United States Embassy announced today that aerial evacuation of about 40 American and 300 British nationals from Hyderabad will begin in a few days.

The announcement said the step was being taken "in view of the latest developments regarding Hyderabad." This could be a hint that trouble is coming in the dispute between India and the huge independent south central state.

The Moslem nizam of Hyderabad had rejected as "out of the question" earlier this week a suggestion by the dominion of India that Indian troops be garrisoned in his state, which is predominantly Hindu. The nizam has resisted previous demands that his state become a part of the dominion and has appealed to the United Nations for help.

India contends Indian troops should be in Hyderabad to protect life and property. The nizam says his troops can do it. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India sent a "last demand" Tuesday for century of the Indian troops and disbanding of the Razakars, a volunteer Moslem armed group. Hyderabad's deputy premier said yesterday the demand had not been received.

Chiefs Edge Colonials With Two Unearned Runs in Eighth, 2-0

Joe Kania Victim of Costly Errors in Playoff Opener

The Poughkeepsie Chiefs took a one game lead over the Kingston Colonials in the first game of the Shaughnessy playoff Wednesday night in Poughkeepsie by shoving two unearned runs across the plate in the bottom half of the eighth inning to win by 2 to 0.

The two clubs will meet in the Bridge City for the second game of the best-of-seven series tonight. Poughkeepsie and Kingston will be at the municipal stadium here Friday and Saturday nights for the third and fourth games. If other games are necessary, the series will shift back to Poughkeepsie.

Waterbury Triumphs

While the Colonials were dropping that 2 to 0 heartbreaker last night, the Waterbury Timers took the first game of the series from Port Chester by the close margin of 4 to 2. The Timers tallied two runs in the ninth to break a 2-2 deadlock.

Two big misuses, one by Ralph Matzer at short and the other by Ed McNamara, the Kingston keystone operator, meant the big difference of victory and defeat for the surging Colonials last night. Both clubs battled on scoreless terms until the eighth when, with the aid of those two boos, the Chiefs scored a pair of runs to win by the squeaker count of 2-0.

Kania Is Loser

Joe Kania, pitching a masterful four-hitter, was the victim of the two errors in the eighth. In all, the Colonials committed four boos but Kania managed to pitch himself out of trouble. The eighth frame was the final, however, and the Bridge City club capitalized on Kingston's defensive lapses.

Kania matched pitches with Ed Peterie, the Poughkeepsie flinger, who blanked Kingston with three hits, two by McNamara and the other by Julie Laviano. With the scoreboard reading 0-0 going into the bottom half of the eighth, At Thominier, Poughkeepsie's center fielder, cracked a single to left. Hal Leach moved Thominier up a peg on a bunt. Steve Mizerak bounced to Matzer who uncorked a wild heave over third trying to get Thominier. Matzer's wild peg went into the dugout and Thominier romped around to score the first run. Mizerak took second on the error. After Joe DeTola skied to right, Chuck Quimby hit to McNamara who let the ball get by for an error while Mizerak hot-footed it around third to score. Eddie Irons followed with a single but Kania put the fire out by getting Faskisa on a fly to center. Manager Eddie Kobesky, who was held hitless by Peterie, hit the ball hard on two occasions. His two drives would have gone for homers at the uptown stadium.

Tonight's Pitchers

Harry Petty, with a 13-10 record for the year, is scheduled to hurl for Kingston tonight against Marjory Garlock with a 14-9 record.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The outlook appeared gloomy for the rest of the American League today as Joe McCarthy's battering Boston Red Sox boasted their largest lead of the season. Coming from behind in typical Red Sox clubbing fashion, the murderous hitting Hubmen overcame their arch rivals, the New York Yankees, 10-6, last night, to increase their margin over the runner-up New Yorkers to two and a half games. Their previous best advantage was a game and a half.

In drawing first blood in their all-important three-game series with the Yankees, the Red Sox kept two streaks alive. They extended their latest winning skein to eight straight, and now own six consecutive triumphs against the Yankees. They have copped 22 of their last 26.

The Sox gained their latest triumph the hard way. Five singles off starter Joe Dobson gave the Yankees four runs in the first inning. Undaunted, the Red Sox bounced back with six hits off Frank Shea in their half of the same inning to take a 5-4 lead. Birdie Tebbetts' two-out triple off the center field wall drove in Wally Moses and Billy Goodman with the tying runs. Billy Hitchcock followed with a single to score Tebbetts.

After the Red Sox moved in front, 6-4, the Yankees tied it up with single runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Yogi Berra's 14th home run furnished the fifth run and Hitchcock's fumble, Tommy Henrich's single and Benk Bauer's long fly produced the other two.

The Sox quickly untied the score in their half of the seventh. With Lefty Joe Page, third Yankee hurler, on the mound, they put together three hits and three walks to four runs across and put the game out of the Yankees' reach. Lefty Johnson, who had replaced Dobson in the seventh, was credited with his eighth victory against two defeats.

Indians Win in 11th
The third place Cleveland Indians scored an unearned run in the last half of the 11th inning to nip the Detroit Tigers, 8-7, and remain four and a half games behind Boston. Larry Doby, who rapped out four singles to extend through 10 games, scored the winning run when second baseman Connie Berry threw wild to the plate on Wally Judnick's bouncer. The Tigers had overcome a 7-3 deficit to force the game into extra innings. Bob Lemon, trying for his 20th victory, was shelled in the seventh. He allowed seven hits and gave up eight walks. His string of scoreless innings ended at 31 in the fourth. Sam Zolcak, fourth Cleveland pitcher, was credited with the victory. Art Houtteman, charged with the defeat, dropped his 16th game. He has won two.

Philadelphia's fourth place Athletics swept a twilight-night doubleheader from the Senators of Washington, 10-7 and 5-2, to reduce Boston's margin over them to nine games.

The defeats ran Washington's losing streak to eight games.

Pirates Break Out in 8th

Exploding for four runs in the eighth inning, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Reds in Cincinnati, 5-1, and strengthened their second place position in the National League pennant race. They now own a half game advantage over the Brooklyn Dodgers and trail the front-running Boston Braves by three and a half games. The Braves and Dodgers were idle.

Danny Murtaugh's fourth single of the game, coming with the bases loaded, drove in the tie-breaking run. Eddie Eltz Gerald batted in two more with a single and Pitcher Ernie Bonham closed out the scoring with a run-producing single. Bonham set the Reds down with four hits for his fifth victory. Ted Kluszewski's 11th homer deprived Bonham of a shutout. The defeat dropped the Reds into the cellar.

Johnny Schmitz limited the Cardinals to two hits in St. Louis, pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 4-2 triumph. It was the fourth place Cards' fourth consecutive loss and dropped them to five and a half games off the pace. Roy Smalley paved the way for Schmitz' 17th victory with a bases-loaded single off Ken Johnson in the ninth. The blow scored two runs and snapped a 2-2 tie.

Andy Seminick walloped a two-run homer in the top of the ninth to enable the Philadelphia Phillies to nip the New York Giants, 5-4. Walt Dubiel went all the way to chalk up his seventh triumph. The Philly victory dropped the fifth place Giants six games back. It also pulled the Phils out of the cellar by a half game.

The scheduled doubleheader between the St. Louis Browns and White Sox in Chicago was postponed because of rain.

Ex-High School Moundsman Gives Only Five Base Hits

Clark Mains, the brilliant Kingston High School pitcher, served notice to both Morgan's Restaurant and Boulevard Gulf, the two remaining hopefuls in the current post-season Shaughnessy playoffs, that the Chez Emile combine will be a tough customer in the closing contests. Mains personally took care of Jones Dairy/Wednesday night at the Athletic Field by flipping a masterful 5 to 2 win, thus eliminating the Dairyemen from any further competition in the playoffs.

As a result of that decision, the Chezzies will mark time until the winner of tonight's clash between Morgan's and the Boulevards is determined. Chezzies will then battle the winner in the best three out of five series for the post-season championship of the 1948 City Baseball League.

The Chezzies wrapped up the game for Mains right in the first inning by supplying him with a cluster of three runs. They added two more in the third while Mains was touched for a pair of runs in the Jones' fourth.

Bill Windburn, another erstwhile pitching great for K.H.S., went the distance for the losers despite only a day's rest. Windy was cuffed for seven blows, all singles, and struck out five. However, it was clearly visible from the start that the big righthander was tired. He has been on the firing line three times in the past five days.

After Mains retired the Dairyemen in the first frame, the Chezzies came back strong with hits zooming off the bats of Gill, Crosby and Lindhurst, the latter's blow pushing in Gill. Windburn loaded the sacks by walking Vertetis. Bush then stroked a clean single accounting for Crosby and Lindhurst and the ball game.

Chezz Emile made it 5 to 0 in the bottom half of the third on singles by Crosby, Lindhurst, Shattan and an error by George Zadany. Lindhurst also mixed up a stolen base in the festivities which gave the winners two additional markers.

Mains Loses Shutout

Leading 5 to 0, Mains weakened somewhat in the fourth when the Dairyemen shot over two runs. Jimmy Ashdown and Jack "Daisy" Schatzel reached him for singles. Ashdown stroled in on Tommy Mains' biff. The second run of the session came in on an infield out.

Despite his loss last night in the Dairyemen's fadeout for the 1948 season in the City League, Windburn's mound successes won't be forgotten in a hurry. The righthander, who is just about the entire pitching corps for Manager George Zadany's crew, has pitched the Dairyemen to three straight City League championships during the regular playing season. With an additional day's rest at least before last night's contest, Bill would have been tougher, no doubt, for the Chezzies.

On the other hand, Mains' work was the second straight effective mound job for the Chezzies. Two nights ago Buddy Smith was given a pitcher's glove and was told to stop the Dairyemen. He accomplished the task in fine style and right now the Chez Emile nine stands as the odds on favorite to wrap up the post-season championship for 1948.

Kerschner Wins 12-Mile Lake George Marathon

Lake George, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—Twenty-three-year-old Jerry Kerschner pocketed $1,500 today for his victory in the 12-mile Lake George marathon swim.

The husky Columbus, Ohio, athlete achieved his first major professional swimming triumph yesterday by capturing the grueling event in 4 hours and 59 minutes.

Kerschner, a navy veteran, appeared in good shape as he climbed the finish ladder to be greeted by his parents who had witnessed the grind. He had led all the way.

It was the second time in less than a week that his long-distance swimming prowess netted a bonanza. He won $1,000 last Friday by finishing third in the 10-mile Toronto marathon on Lake Ontario.

But yesterday he defeated the $3,000 first prize winner of the Toronto marathon, Steve Wozniak of Buffalo, N. Y.

Wozniak, 33, negotiated the Lake George course in 5 hours and 18 minutes.

Probably the most popular competitor was Shirley May France, the youngest of the 29 starters and the only feminine contestant.

The 16-year-old high school junior from Somerset, Mass., finished 10th. She ended the race at dusk after nine hours and 42 minutes in the water.

She won $550 in prize money and will receive the Grantland Rice trophy awarded the first woman to finish.

The mixed doubles team of veteran New Yorker Frank X. Shields and Miss Gertrude Moran of Santa Monica, Calif., won in that event 7-5, 6-3 over Miss Bunny Vosters, Seawane, Pa., and Victor Seixas, Philadelphia.

Colonial Playoffs

(By The Associated Press) (N.Y.)—Poughkeepsie and Waterbury, the second and third place teams during the regular season, drew first blood in the semi-final Colonial League playoff series last night.

Poughkeepsie pushed across two unearned runs in the eighth inning to down fourth place Kingston, 2-0. Waterbury scored twice in the ninth to edge pennant-winning Port Chester, 4-2.

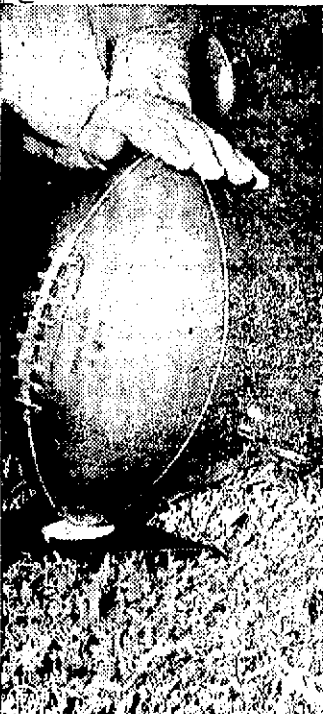

The winning Poughkeepsie runs came with only one hit, a single. A throwing error by shortstop Ralph Matzer permitted the first tally and a fielding error by second baseman Ed McNamara allowed the second run. Both times the runners scored from second base. Doubles by Leo Eastham and Gene Czaplicki and a single by Ed Jolda brought the winning Waterbury runs. Joe Mellendick of Port Chester hit the only home run in either game. His blow came in the eighth inning and momentarily tied the score.

Ell Peteric held Kingston to only three hits for the best pitching performance of the night. Guy Coleman, the Port Chester loser, struck out 10.

Tonight's schedule:
Waterbury at Port Chester.
Kingston at Poughkeepsie.

A Little Help

This is the place-kick tee that the University of Toledo will use this fall. Developed by head coach Skip Stahley, the tee provides a hard, dry, flat corrugated surface for any kind of weather and provides the kicker with a straight, line-of-sight approach to the ball. Stahley says. The one-inch stand has been approved by the National Collegiate Association.

Front Runner

Fred Enke, Jr., is now a prized halfback of the professional Detroit Lions. The Arizona ace was the nation's leading ground-gainer in collegiate circles last fall, passing and running to 1941 yards.

Electrical Misuse

Some 70,000 fires a year in the U. S. occur from misuse of electrical equipment and defective wiring.

Local Federalists Headed by Cramer

Woodstock, Sept. 9 — Konrad Cramer was elected chairman of the newly organized Woodstock Chapter, United World Federalists, at a meeting of the charter members Tuesday night at Miss Harriet Goddard's studio. Other officers elected were Charles Rosen, vice-chairman; Mrs. Dudley Summers, secretary; Mrs. Hans Cohn, treasurer; and Mrs. Katherine E. Boyd, chairman of publicity.

Although the chapter was formed with 32 charter members, it is understood that the membership is now well over 50 and expected to increase continuously. For the information of the numerous persons attending the meeting, Chairman Cramer read the statement of the organization's belief. "We believe that peace is not merely the absence of war, but the presence of justice, of law, of order; in short, of government and the institutions of government; that world peace can be created and maintained only under a world federal government, universal and strong enough to prevent armed conflict between nations, and having direct jurisdiction over the individual in those matters within its authority."

The statement of purposes was also read, "Therefore, while endorsing the efforts of the United Nations to bring about a world community favorable to peace, we will work to create a world federal government with authority to enact, interpret and enforce world law adequate to maintain peace."

"1.—By making use of the amendment processes of the United Nations to transform it into such a world federal government; "2.—By participating in world constituent assemblies, whether of private individuals, parliamentary or other groups seeking to produce draft constitutions for consideration and possible adoption by the United Nations or by national governments in accordance with their respective constitutional processes; "3.—By pursuing any other reasonable and lawful means to achieve world federation."

Cramer told those present that the Woodstock chapter is the first to be organized in Ulster county but he hopes there will be many more in the near future. He also named outstanding prominent persons who are working actively in this cause and included Justice Owen D. Roberts, Emory Reeves, Norman Cousins, Raymond Swing, Vernon Nash, W. T. Holliday, Henry B. Cabot, Cass Canfield, the Hon. William O. Douglas and Charles D. Hilles, Jr.

The time and place of the next meeting will be announced.
